Court Issues Restraining Order As McMillen Mill Is Stoned

HOME AREA OF ROXIE GREEN IS COMBED AGAIN

Sheriff Seeks To Eliminate Suicide Possibility; Columbus Clue Fails.

All known clues to the whereabouts of missing Roxie Green exhausted, Sheriff Le[illegible] Retterer today directed a new [illegible] of the rural area around [illegible] Green home in an effort to eliminate any possibility of suicide.

Sheriff Retterer and Deputy F[illegible] Fink this morning directed a searching party made up of [illegible] 15 Prospect residents including members of the committee in charge of solicitations for the reward fund now under way. The search was decided upon at a meeting of the reward committee and other citizens in Prospect last night.

Buildings Searched

Search was first made of the Green home and nearby buildings without result. From there the searchers were to go to an abandoned building some distance from the Green property and expected to go over the building and surrounding territory very thoroughly.

This new development in the week-long mystery came after Deputy Sheriff Raymond LaMonda yesterday checked without result on six model A Ford automobiles in Knox, Licking and Muskingum counties.

The cars bear license numbers starting with "U41" This much of a license number was given Columbus police by a filling station attendant who believes he saw Roxie Wednesday in a car with a man and another couple. LaMonda said the cars he checked could not have been connected with the case. Two now are out of commission, one is operated by a rural mail carrier and the other three were found to be in no way involved.

Cleveland Trip Futile

Carl Green, father of Roxie, made an airplane trip to Cleveland yesterday to inquire further into a report from a Chicago woman that she had seen a girl at the Cleveland airport she believed to be the missing girl. Green said on his return that he had obtained no additional information that would aid in solving Roxie's disappearance.

V.F.W. Here For Meeting

Tenth District Group in Marion for Two-Day Program.

State and district officers, together with members of posts and auxiliaries of the Tenth District, Veterans of Foreign Wars are arriving today for the two-day meeting at which members of Veterans Post No 3313 and the post auxiliary are hosts today and Sunday. Speaker for the meeting will be John Emde of Akron, department junior vice commander. More than 300 delegates and visitors are expected for the meeting which will formally open the post's new quarters.

Registration of delegates will get underway this afternoon at the post clubrooms and the registration desk will be open again at 9 a. m. Sunday. Auxiliary members will register at the Elks' clubrooms where the women's organization will hold its business session. The veterans' business session will open at 10 a. m. Sunday in the Central Labor Union hall. In the afternoon there will be a joint meeting of the two groups at the Elks' hall at which time the visitors will be welcomed by Mayor Harry L. Dowler. The conference will close with a parade in the downtown district at 4 p m. The parade will form at 3:30 o'clock, at Central Junior High school, move east on Center street to Baker street, south on Baker street to Church street, west on Church street to Main street and north on Main street to Mill street. The marchers will be reviewed by the junior vice commander from a reviewing stand at the west side of the courthouse.

MAN KILLED AT BUCYRUS

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Sept. 27—The second of two accidents in Bucyrus Friday involving trucks and Pennsylvania passenger trains, resulted fatally for William J. Ellis, 29, Orrville truck driver, who was instantly killed when the truck he was operating was struck at the West Mansfield street crossing at 2 40 p m. In an accident early Friday at the Sandusky avenue crossing Edwin Jarrett, Hamilton truck driver, escaped with bruises when the tractor of his semi-truck trailer was struck by the locomotive of No. 45, westbound train.

Train No 52 in charge of H C Beamer, engineer, and B. L. Bennett conductor, both of Fort Wayne, was involved in the fatal accident. The train was eastbound and was slightly damaged in the mishap.

Ellis was thrown from the truck by the impact and his body was bent about the flasher light post where the flashers were still operating when an ambulance came to recover the body. He was dead upon arrival of the ambulance. Pieces of the wreckage and of the load of scrap metal which the truck was carrying were carried 200 feet east along the right of way. The truck was demolished. It was the property of the Quality Castings Co. of Orrville.

The body was removed to the Wise Funeral home.

In the accident earlier in the day witnesses said the gates had not been lowered. Jarrett was treated at City hospital for his injuries, and discharged. Police said the gates were up and undamaged when they arrived to investigate the mishap.

Daylight Saving Time Clocks Go Back Tonight

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 27—Millions of Americans who lost an hour of sleep last April 27 will even the score for another year when they push their clocks back one hour tomorrow to mark the end of daylight saving time.

Daylight time will end in most communities where it has been observed at 2 a. m. tomorrow. Some 650 communities in the United States and Canada and 19 foreign countries observed daylight time this year.

The change also will affect railroads, bus lines and radio stations which conformed to daylight schedules.

Truman Makes Appeal For Community Chest

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 — President Truman broadcast a radio appeal last night for Americans to "pledge generously" to their annual Community Chest campaigns.

"Your pledge to the Community Chest," he said, "helps to solve the myriad of human problems which are the common lot of everybody.

"And when you give that pledge warmly and generously, everybody benefits."

17 INDICTED BY GRAND JURORS

Include Man Sought as Gerbes Slayer; No Action in Williams, Clark Case.

The Marion county grand jury returned an indictment of first degree murder against Edwin De Moyne Young among 17 reported today following a two-day session.

Young was indicted for the murder of Mrs. Zora Gerbes on July 9. He is still at large.

The jury passed the case of Paul Clark charged with armed robbery. The case of John Williams charged with attempted extortion was not presented for consideration. County Prosecutor James E. Reed said the case was under further investigation.

Williams was the state's first witness against Clark before the grand jury but became a defendant himself on charges of extortion brought by Clark.

Other indictments returned are:

Lester E Slane, auto larceny; Mary Faye Marvin, forgery; Medford Eugene Marvin, forgery; William Jarvis, forgery; William E. Rowland, larceny; Robert Lee Murhpy, auto larceny; Mose Simon, auto larceny; Lester Streeter, larceny; Charles C. Inman, fraud; James Eugene Furnis armed robbery; Wilbur J Gruver, armed robbery; Charles W. Conley (alias Lewis Fraley) fraud; E. L Klotz, fraud; Jack McFarland, auto larceny; William Casey, auto larceny and James Edward Hawkins, assault.

No indictment was returned in one case that of Margaret Wilt, accused of breaking and entering.

COMMITTEE ASKS EISLER BE DEPORTED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27—The house committee on un-American activities checked the Hanns Eisler case up to the justice department today with a recommendation that he be prosecuted on charges of perjury and passport fraud, and then deported.

So far as the committee itself is concerned, Chairman Thomas (R-NJ) said, its investigation of the self-described former Communist is ended.

But Thomas made it clear that the committee, which ended three days of investigation of Eisler yesterday, expects the justice department to take immediate action on its recommendations concerning the 54-year-old German-born Hollywood song writer.

The committee's recommendations, approved unanimously by the four members who sat as a sub-committee, were that:

►"The department of justice take action to initiate prosecution against Eisler for perjury and fraudulently obtaining admission into this country.

►"At the expiration of such prosecution, he (Eisler) be forcibly deported from the United States, which would, under the law, prevent him from ever returning to this country."

MERCHANTS NAME CHIEF

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, Sept. 27—The Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants yesterday named David L. Rike, vice president and general manager of the Rike-Kumler Company, of Dayton, president to succeed Bolton S Armstrong of Cincinnati, who was president since 1942.

Galion Company Plans Court Action To Control Pickets

Special to The Star

GALION, Sept. 27 — After Thursday's demonstration by some 79 pickets at the North Electric Manufacturing company plant to keep plant officials and workers from returning to work, Friday morning at 6 30, the pickets were reduced to about 15 Friday afternoon.

Latest statement by the management was that the company would proceed along legal lines and that a temporary restraining order against unpeaceful picketing and violence would be sought in Crawford county common pleas court. It was stated that company attorneys are now holding conference on procedure.

Belief that some of the signers of a union petition published Thursday were not members of the UAW-CIO brought the threat of legal action against the union for including unauthorized names.

To this Edward J. Duck, international representative of the United Auto Workers (CIO), replied: "That is a deliberate attempt to mislead workers and the public. All signatures on the letter to the editor were original signatures of the North Electric workers, and the allegation made by the company is completely silly."

Disapprove Window Breaking

Regarding the several hundred window panes broken by rocks thrown at the plant during the night and about 5 45 a m Friday, Duck said: "We certainly do not agree with the window breaking. Whoever broke the windows did our union more harm than good, because the union is getting the blame. Our union does not condone or promote violence, nor do we believe it to be equitable solution to anyone's problems. We do believe, however, in the majority rule as the basis for a democracy, and the company has realized from the very beginning that a majority of its employes have designated in writing their wish to be represented by the UAW-CIO. We wish only one thing and that is that someone somehow can persuade the management of the North Electric company to accept the democratic American right of management and labor to bargain collectively at the conference table. We will fight to the bitter end to preserve and protect the rights of that great majority of North members who have asked us to help them secure decent wages, hours, and working conditions. If anyone is in doubt as to the merits of our case, let that person either debate against us or urge the North management to do so. This offer will always be open."

Mayor Calls Conference

Following the "excessive" picketing, Friday morning, when the line of company officials, engineers, and workers did not attempt to cross the picket line to go back to work, Mayor William Amann called a conference of the UAW officials to discuss responsibility for destruction of property at the plant and to assure him that no more such actions would occur for the duration of the strike.

Hannegan Out As Party Chief

Resigns as Head of Democratic National Committee; Keeps Postoffice Job.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept 27—Postmaster General Robert E Hannegan announced today he is resigning as chairman of the Democratic national committee because of health, and that President Truman has indicated approval of Senator J Howard McGrath of Rhode Island to be the new chairman.

Hannegan said he is giving up the chairmanship he took over in January, 1944, on the advice of physicians who urged that he limit his activities. He will stay on as postmaster general.

Calls Meeting

He called a meeting of the national committee for Oct 29 and said his resignation will be effective as of that date at 11 a. m. when the meeting starts.

Hannegan said he had suggested Senator McGrath's name to President Truman as his successor and the President has indicated his approval.

Simultaneously, the chairman announced that Gael Sullivan, executive director and vice chairman of the committee, a former assistant postmaster general who had been exercising full power in Hannegan's absence, is resigning on the same date, Oct 29.

May Keep Seat

It is expected that Senator McGrath would keep his senate seat if he takes over as committee chairman. Others have done so in the past, including Cordell Hull who served as domestic chairman while a member of the house in the early twenties, and Senator Fess of Ohio remained in the senate while heading the Republican committee.

McGrath is a former governor of Rhode Island and one time solicitor general of the United States. He is 43.

Galion Eagles Club Damaged in Fire

Special to The Star

GALION, O Sept. 27—A fire at the Eagles club last night resulted in considerable smoke damage to the rooms and will require complete redecoration. The fire was discovered by a passerby who noticed smoke pouring from the second story windows at 8:10 p m. In addition to the smoke damage, a hole was burned in the floor and an upholstered chair was partially destroyed. It was believed a discarded cigaret caused the blaze.

SHRINE $2,511 CHECK GOES TO HOSPITALS

Proceeds from Baseball Benefit Presented Last Night.

Presentation of a check for $2,511 38 to be placed in the Crippled Children's Hospital fund was made by representatives of the Marion Shrine club at a stated meeting of Aladdin Shrine in Columbus last night. The check represented the proceeds from the second benefit baseball game sponsored by the Shrine club in the interest of the children's hospital fund, after expenses including $514 42 amusement tax had been deducted. A total of 3,028 tickets were sold for the game between the Marion Cubs and the Springfield Giants at the Marion baseball park July 18.

Presentation of the check was made by Wendell Wiant, president of the local club, and the check was received by Dr. Frank Starr, illustrious potentate. Approximately 25 members of the Marion Shrine club, who also are members of Aladdin shrine, attended the meeting. James R Folsom is secretary-treasurer of the local club.

Following the meeting refreshments were served. Approximately 300 Masons were present.

TAFT PREPARES NEW CAMPAIGN

Commits Self on Drive To Ram "Social Legislation" Through Congress.

By The Associated Press

PORTLAND, Ore, Sept. 27—A powerful campaign to force early action by congress on so-called "social" legislation was mapped today by Senator Taft (D-Ohio) as an apparently integral part of his expected bid for the 1948 Republican presidential nomination.

Despite his forecast of opposition by other Republicans, the Ohio senator stood committed today to head a drive for legislation to expand old age assistance, increase unemployment compensation, construct public housing and provide state-administered federal aid for health and education.

All this, Taft told an audience of Republican club members at Gearhart, Ore, last night, may cost the federal government $1,000,000,000 a year.

Expects Opposition

The Ohio senator, who speaks at a meeting of Oregon State college students at Corvallis tonight after viewing the Oregon-Texas football game here today, made it plain he expects many Republicans to demand that action on

MANY DOUBT BRITAIN WILL QUIT PALESTINE

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Sept 27 — Arabs, Jews and some Britons greeted with skepticism today Colonial Secretary Arthur Creech Jones' statement before the United Nations yesterday that Britain was willing to surrender her Palestine mandate and ready to withdraw her troops from the Holy Land.

British press comment generally was favorable and some editorials expressed hope that the British stand might mean eventual peace for Palestine. In the Holy Land itself, however, the statement got a suspicious reception.

One British official in Jerusalem jokingly offered to "bet you five quid (five pounds or $20) we are still here five years from now."

Emile Khoury, member of the Arab Higher Executive in Palestine, described the statement as "strangely like that by Mr. Creech Jones at our London conference when he told us Britain would take responsibility for a solution only if it was agreed to by Arabs and Jews. This will make our frounds the Jews very happy since itells them they can be even more radical in their demands, knowing if the Jews are displeased, Britain will stick by them.

Nevada Worker Hurt In Galion Factory

Special to The Star

GALION, Sept. 27—Jess Gilland of Nevada was injured shortly after midnight last night while at work at Perfection Steel Body Co. in Galion. He suffered a dislocated wrist, fractured ribs and contusions and abrasions of the left arm. He was taken to the Galion City hospital.

TOSS MISSILES IN OUTBREAK OF VIOLENCE

Court Order Granted This Morning Limits Pickets to Six.

Strike violence moved from Galion to Marion today, resulting in prompt issuance of a restraining order in Marion county common pleas court against the UAW-CIO on a petition from the McMillen Feed Mills seeking an injunction against the union interfering with persons entering the plant.

Developments this morning in the six-week-old strike at the McMillen Mills included stoning the plant by an estimated 100 or more persons alleged to be members of the UAW.

Striking employes, who during the past week have doubled and tripled pickets at the plant, were assembled at the plant gates on East Farming street at 6 30 this morning. Company's representatives report that stoning of the plant began shortly after 8 when pickets attempted to prevent office help from entering the plant.

William Charle, plant manager, immediately upon development of the disturbances, sought an injunction in the common pleas court. The petition was heard by Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith within two hours after violence started and the restraining order was placed into effect within three hours of the time actual stoning began.

Named in Order

The restraining order is issued against the UAW, Local 750 of the UAW, Edward Duck UAW organizer, Joseph Stafford, McMillen unit president of the union, Clarence Peery, vice president, Gene Shellhorn, secretary, Bernard Baum and Dwight Buchanan, union members.

The order prohibits interfering in any way with plant officials, workers or production, from excessive picketing, congregating or loitering near the plant or any acts of violence to any company employe entering or leaving the plant.

Judge Smith, in issuing the order, limited the number of pickets to six, specifying that not more than two may picket together at any one time. The judge enjoined the union to conduct peaceful picketing.

Hearing on the injunction was set by the judge for Oct 4. At this time consideration as to whether or not the restraining order will be permanent will be given.

Appearing for the company were plant manager William Charle and office manager J Arthur Keever. The company was represented by Donithen, Michel and Davis, attorneys.

Appearing for the union were Joseph Stafford, McMillen union president and Clarence Peery, union vice president. They were without counsel.

Officials Testify

In testimony given by both Charle and Keever it was brought out that the workers had restrained company employes from entering the plant, Keever saying that he had been restrained Monday of this week. Keever also testified that of the workers at the plant when violence broke out this morning "about 10 per cent" were McMillen employes.

Stafford in testimony did not deny that there were other than McMillen employes at the plant this morning, nor did he deny that they were employes of the Universal Cooler unit of Local 750, UAW. Stafford did deny that the McMillen unit had requested help from them in conducting the strike.

Damage Not Estimated

Plant Manager Charle would not give an estimate of damage to the plant pending further surveys this afternoon. He said he had informed the police as soon as the violence originated. The crowd which had assembled shortly before 6 a. m. disappeared for a brief period for a mass meeting and then returned to the plant to continue the mass picketing during which time the brickbats were hurled. Workers were lined up along the Erie tracks. No arrests were made.

Quick action by the compnay today in filing for an injunction follows an unofficial hearing conducted in Judge Smith's chambers Thursday afternoon when company counsel, union counsel, company and union officials and Judge Smith "talked things over" in attempts to prevent such an occurrence as happened this morning.

UAW Leader Edward Duck who has been handling the Galion strike was in Galion today and could not be reached for comment on proceedings in Marion today. The UAW is involved in both strikes.

Christ for World Convention Opens Here; LeTourneau And Other Leaders To Be on Program Tonight and Sunday

By ELAINE BALLINGER

Speakers in Marion for the three-day Christ for the World convention, including the nationally known Christian layman and industrialist, Robert G. LeTourneau, will be heard tomorrow in churches here at various services, in addition to their appearance at the convention services tonight and tomorrow. The convention opened last night in Trinity Baptist church with a meeting sponsored by the women's department of the Marion County council of Churches.

At the meeting last night, Dr. Donald W. McClure, pioneer missionary of the Presbyterian church to the South-Sudanese in Africa, and Miss Elizabeth Turner, executive secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions office in Chicago, a former missionary to China, spoke.

Mr. LeTourneau will speak tonight at 8 in the Garfield park pavilion, brought to Marion by Kiwanis club through its church committee. He will speak at the pavilion again tomorrow at 8 p. m. Tomorrow morning, he is scheduled to speak at the morning worship service in Trinity Baptist church, Rev. J. B. Holloway, pastor, announced.

The Kiwanis club has been in correspondence with the LaTourneau Foundation for several months in an attempt to bring this outstanding industrial leader to Marion. A committee will be at the airport at 5:30 tonight to greet Mr. LeTourneau and his party. The group will consist of Mayor Harry L Dowler, E. L. Cleveland, president of the Kiwanis club, G. G. Nuetzel, and Robert O'Connel, members of the Kiwanis church committee, Rev. J. B. Holloway, president of the Marion Council of Churches, Dr. Henry Schaeffer, president of the Marion County Ministerial association, and Rev. R. W. Faulkner, chairman of the evangelistic committee of the Ministerial association. A dinner in his honor was set for Hotel Harding at 6 o'clock with officers of the sponsoring organizations in attendance. With Mr. LeTourneau will come Dr. and Mrs. Harold Strathearn of New York City, to assist in the program. Mrs. Strathearn will present special numbers in song.

Youth Rally Set

Dr. McClure and Miss Turner will share briefly in the tomorrow afternoon program and will give short messages at the closing service tomorrow night in Trinity church sponsored by the Marion Christian Youth council, young people's division of the Council of Churches. At this youth rally meeting, James Rea, president of the youth group, will preside. Miss Marjorie Middleton will read Scripture and Miss Virginia Howard will offer prayer. William Hollaway will lead congregational singing. Special music will be a solo by Miss Barbara McDonald. In addition to the list of speakers, Dr. J. Campbell White, executive director of the Christ for the World movement, Presbyterian minister and missionary worker, will be heard at the youth meeting. He will preach at the morning worship hour tomorrow in Epworth Methodist church. A few months ago he left the pastorate of the United Presbyterian church in Mansfield to head up the Christ for the World movement.

Miss Turner is scheduled to appear at both the Sunday school hour and the worship service of First Presbyterian church tomorrow morning. Her messages will be "China's Challenge to Christianity." At the youth rally her subject will be "You and All the World."

Dr. McClure will speak in the Sunday school hour of Salem Evangelical and Reformed church tomorrow, and at the morning worship service in First Evangelical and Reformed church. In the morning his topic will be "Christ's Plan for Africa." His theme for the youth meeting was announced as "Adventuring for Christ in Darkest Africa."

Poor Man's Philosopher Gives Out on Wedlock

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK—Sayeth the Poor Man's Philosopher:

When I was a bachelor and the world was young, I once asked a couple:

"What's the toughest year of married life?"

"The first," said the husband promptly.

"The first six," said his wife. The husband look discerted.

"How long have you been married?" I asked.

"Three years," said the wife sweetly.

Hal Boyle

Traveling around I meet a lot of Young people going to the altar, and sometimes it seems that they just use the church as a bus stop on the way to the divorce court.

Getting a divorce in too many cases is like lopping off a foot to cure a bunion. You may lose considerably more than you can spare. I know this is true because of the number of divorced people who tell me they'd give up their new castles in Spain anytime to share a wigwam again with the "battleax" or "old blowhard" they shed in a period of pique or frustration.

Income, Housing Blamed

Many of the harried married today whack apart their marital ties simply because the corporation doesn't have enough income or the right kind of living quarters. They forget that poverty and the housing shortage are as old as true love and began with the tale of mankind. Adam and Eve set up housekeeping in a roofless garden without steam heat named "Eden," but which they probably privately called "Windy Acres" or "Ero Hollow."

We will pass over the fact that at least young Adam and Eve didn't have to face the "in-law" problem. I can't answer that one.

Love does need its groceries, but that doesn't mean young people have to start the tandem life with a high-paying job, a house and a motor car—things it took their parents half a lifetime at the treadmill to acquire.

My own grandfather and grandmother brought nothing from Ireland but their youth. They spent this and at death left only a legacy of children—but there were seventeen of these. Grandma, incidentally, outlived the old man, which may serve as an enlightening footnote in the controversy as to whether childbirth is harder on husband or wife.

"Life Is Children"

When friends from Ireland wrote to ask Grandpa, who was a coal miner, what his life was like over here he replied:

"It's most children—and grandchildren."

Whenever another child arrived, the family joke was:

"Well, put it under the doorstep for three days and see whether it barks or cries. If it cries, we'll keep it. If it barks—"

Long ago Grandma and Grandpa went upstairs, and if family prayers count there as much as votes do down here, they must have washed through the pearly gates on a tidal wave.

Had these good people started off life together in a paid-up bungalow, with cash in the bank and Grandpa perhaps working as a traveling salesman peddling lightning rods—how different the story!

They would probably have halted the family at a dozen kids—if you had any less in those days the neighbors gossipped that you didn't get along well—and started trying to "keep up with the Joneses." And where would that have left me? My father, by his own count, the fifteenth child. (Editor's note: the sixteenth according to some Boyle family statisticians. The issue is uncertain.)

This only goes to show that if all ancestors had been like some young people of today who won't marry or won't stay married because they haven't enough gilt—well, lots of us wouldn't even be here with a mouth to holler through.

Through the ages the ability to laugh together has kept more people happily married—and filled more baby cribs—than all the gold that used to be in the Bank of England.

Next: How to stay married on a small budget.

SENECA CO. JUDGE SCORES ORGANIZED GAMBLING

Hands Stiff Penalty To Bucyrus Club Owner.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Sept. 27 — Seneca County Common Pleas Judge Sugrue Wednesday took occasion to score commercialized gambling in passing sentence on Augustus P. "Gus" Topper, of Bucyrus, owner of the Alvadera Supper Club who was fined $1,500 and given a 90 day suspended sentence to the workhouse.

In pronouncing sentence Judge Sugrue struck at commercialized gambling, pointing to the results which he said "drift into my courts in the form of broken families, divorces, forgery cases and embezzlements."

In suspending the workhouse sentence the judge ordered Topper "placed on probation and ordered that he refrain from all forms of commercialized gambling in Seneca county."

Specific charges against Topper were keeping a building used for gambling; exhibiting a craps game for gambling; and exhibiting a slot machine for gambling. A fourth charge of engaging in gambling for a livelihood, was dropped.

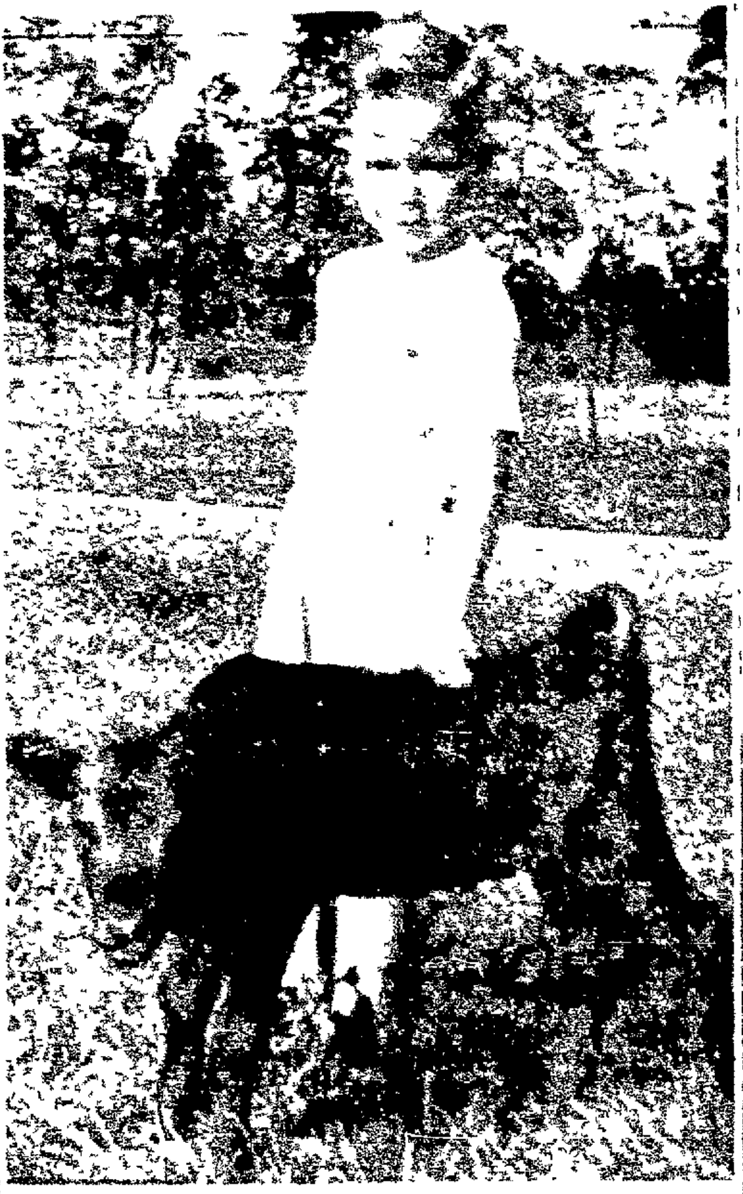
Midget Calf Only 17 Inches Tall Born in Union County



LARRY TAYLOR AND MIDGET CALF

One of the more recently reported oddities of nature is a midget calf at the Emory Taylor farm southeast of Richwood, reported to be the smallest living calf seen in this area in a number of years. The calf only stands 17½ inches high and weighs but 23 pounds. It measures slightly less than 23 inches from the top of its head to the tail.

Mr Taylor who owns and operates the Tawa Run farm has for many years bred as well as raised feeder cattle. This calf he says, is the first he has ever seen or heard about so small

The calf which is coal black is normal in all respects, has no physical defects and apparently is in good health and on the way to being a favorite pet of his grandson, Larry Taylor. Larry picks the calf up and carries it about when his parents are not watching him too closely

Mr Taylor said the calf was bred from a roan Shorthorn cow and a Black Angus registered bull. The Shorthorn is one of the several cows he keeps as a dairy herd

The midget size of the calf, perfectly normal in other respects, has drawn many visitors to the Tawa Run farm on route 4 several miles south of Prospect. Both farmers and veterinarians consider the case highly unusual

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

Stomach Trouble

Perhaps it is a part of the penalty for the high tension of modern life, but in any case, more and more people nowadays seem to suffer from what are called functional gastro-intestinal disorders. Though no actual disease is present, the stomach and bowel do not work as they should

The result is that many of the symptoms of actual organic disease, such as indigestion, pain or discomfort after eating heartburn, vomiting and sickness to the stomach are present, despite the fact that no physical damage exists in the organs of digestion

In the past, many of these patients were treated by giving them a bland diet, that is, one containing no highly seasoned or irritating foods, and no great amount of bulk or roughage. In addition, they were given drugs which relaxed the muscles in the wall of the intestine, sedatives or quieting drugs, and plenty of rest

Today, doctors agree that before the intestinal symptoms can be treated successfully, the underlying cause of the disorder must be found.

Sometimes it has its source in some actual organic disease in other parts of the body, such as tuberculosis or kidney inflammation. In women, it may be a part of the general upset that goes along with change of life

On the other hand, they may also develop in physically normal persons who have been subject to unusual mental or physical strain. However, in such cases the condition [illegible] when the cause for the strain is corrected, the symptoms disappear

The condition may also occur in certain people who are more easily upset than the average person. Thus, in this type, attacks may be brought on by tiredness, fears and the excessive use of tobacco and alcoholic beverages, certain foods, irregular eating habits. In other cases, the stomach and bowel disturbances may be only a part of some general emotional upset called a neurosis.

Hence, when this type of condition develops, the first thing that must be done is to determine just which of these four causes is responsible

If the disturbance is primarily due to overwork, improper food and overindulgence in tobacco these things must be corrected and the patients treated with rest proper diet and the drugs mentioned above

If the condition is due to a general emotional upset, the treatment is best carried out under the direction of a psychiatrist, that is, a specialist in mental and emotional disorders

Of course, if the disorder is produced by such things as nephritis, a disease of the kidneys, an effort must be made to eliminate these underlying conditions

In any event, where so-called functional disturbances of the stomach and bowel occur, thorough study is necessary to determine the source of the disturbance before the most effective treatment can be carried out

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A. K.: Please explain the symptoms of gonorrhea in men.

Answer: The first symptoms of gonorrhea consist of a discharge and inflammation of the male organ. Sometimes there are also fever and prostration. These symptoms gradually subside and are followed by a chronic discharge from the penis. If infection extends into other parts of the genital organs, other symptoms may occur.

The nearer to the sun a planet is, the faster it has to move to keep from being drawn into the sun, because the sun's attraction is more powerful when the planet is closer to it.

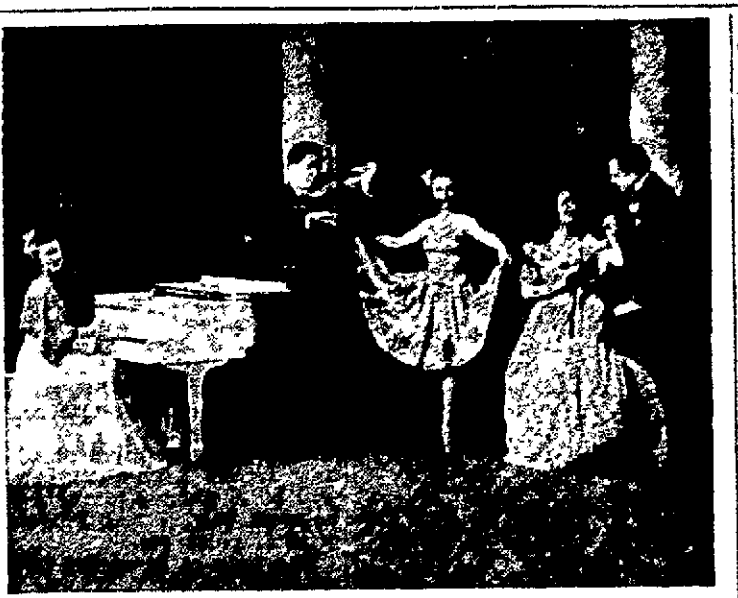
Rev. Diemer Speaks At Waldo Assembly

Rev H K Deimer, pastor of St John's Lutheran church near Waldo, was guest speaker at the Waldo High school assembly Sept 22. He centered his talk around these two points, "we are in school to learn to live together" and "we are in school to be educated for some specific purpose, as a doctor, lawyer or farmer"

Rev Deimer told the students to dream a little in addition to having some purpose in life He stated the time to start dreaming is now when in high school and even though mistakes are made that change some of the plans, it is still well to be headed toward a certain goal For a comparison he said that if there was no definite aim, it would be like going on a long merry-go-round ride then getting off at the starting point

Date for the next assembly will be Oct 6

Eclipses of the moon always occur at night, because the sun and the moon have to be on opposite sides of the earth in order that the moon may get into the earth's shadow.



Artists who will appear in the first program of the concert series sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's club of Marion on Oct. 7 are John Hurley, tenor; Eleanor Warner, soprano; Elaine Mark, danseuse; Boris Zlatich, violinist, and Stephanie Novicky, pianist.

Business Women's Club Sponsors Concert Series

Programs, which promise to be as entertaining as they are varied, are included in the concert series sponsored this season by the Business and Professional Women's club Proceeds of the sale of tickets will be shared by the club with the Jackie Krumholtz Foundation for Lukemia Research and the pediatrics ward at the Marion City hospital.

Only 650 season tickets, the capacity of the Edison Junior High school auditorium, are being placed on sale by the clubwomen and their aim is a sellout at $3 for the four entertainment programs The first concert will be held Oct 7, when a costume program of musical favorites will be presented Other dates and artists are Oct. 21, Piero Pierotic, baritone; Nov 4, Miriam Marmein, dancer, musician and designer. and Nov. 18, the Rizzo accordion quartet All programs will be presented at the Edison auditorium

Lilting melodies of such beloved composers as Victor Herbert. Rudolph Friml, Sigmund Romberg, Richard Strauss, Jerome Kern and others will be presented by the artists on the initial program, which is captioned "Musical Portraits" For those who like grand opera there will be operalogue bringing the music from "La Traviata," "Manon," "La Boheme," "La Giaconda," and others.

Piero Pierotic, Dalmatian baritone, made his initial bow to a New York audience in Carnegie Chamber Music hall in October, 1940. His years after school and college were spent as an officer with the Marines in the Jugo-Slavian navy and it was as a navy man he was discovered by the Chicago opera tenor, Tino Pattiera, who advised him to study in Vienna and Rome His programs include a group of Dalmatian songs.

Dance Program

Each of Miriam Marmein's numbers is based on a definite idea, clearly projected, strikingly costumed and synchronized to excellent music, which have caused critics to place her alone in the art of classic pantomine Romance, tragedy, fantasy, drama and comedy are interpreted in her one-woman theater dance program.

The accordion as a concert instrument is new and in the hands of the Rizzo Accordion quartet has won a place of its own in the hearts of music lovers. The quartet will present the best in classical and semi-classical music especially arranged by Andrew Rizzo of Chicago, known as a famous "teacher of teachers" of the piano accordion.

The concert course tickets are being sold by members of the club and headquarters are at the Economy Savings and Loan Co office

Couple Exchange Vows in Church Wedding Rites

Emanuel Lutheran church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Betty Jeanne Carmean and John William Loeffert, both of Marion, Sunday afternoon when the double ring service was read in a candlelight ceremony, by Rev M. E Hollensen, pastor. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Forrestt Carmean of Athens and Russell Carmean of Columbus, and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Loeffert of 140 North Greenwood street. Mr. Carmean gave his daughter in marriage.

Organ music was by Miss Wanda McMahan, and Miss Barbara McDonald sang "Because," "Indian Love Call," and "I Love You Truly," and during the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer," by Malotte. The organist played "Call Me Thine Own," "Always," "Love, You Are Mine," "Oh Promise Me," and "My God and I."

Floral decorations included two baskets of white gladioli and an altar vase of the same flowers Four seven-branch candelabra were tied with satin bows and decorated with greenery At each pew were tall candles tied with white satin bows and plumosis greens.

For her wedding, Miss Carmean chose a white lace gown with sweetheart neckline, trimmed with seed pearls, and fashioned with long, fitted sleeves ending in points over the hands, and hoop skirt ending in a circular train Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a crown of pearlized orange blossoms, and her jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a white Bible, a gift from her mother, topped with a white orchid, and showered with white satin ribbons tied in lovers knots with white petals and plumosis.

Miss Marilyn Thompson of Columbus, maid of honor, wore an aqua taffeta dress in off-shoulder style with bustle back. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink glammelia and ageratum showered with white satin ribbon and pink petals

The bridesmaids were Mrs Gerald Wiseman of Athens, cousin of the bride, and Miss Carol Vance of Marion, both in pink gowns identical in design with that of the maid of honor. Their colonial bouquets were of fuchsia glammelias and white pompons showered with white ribbon and fuchsia petals Patty VanFossen of Marion was candle lighter. She wore a yellow gown styled like those of the other attendants, and a halo of white baby asters in her hair. Kenneth C. Frayer Jr of Marion, in a white flannel suit with white carnation boutonnaire, was ring bearer. He carried the rings on a white satin pillow edged with lace and with white streamers at the corners Best man was James R. Loeffert, brother of the bridegroom, and ushers were Robert Balcauf and Sanford Lane.

For her daughter's wedding. Mrs Carmean wore black crepe dress with white trimming and black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. Mrs Loeffert, mother of the bridegroom, was costumed in black crepe dress and black accessories, and her corsage was a salmon-colored, camellia-flowered tuberous begonia.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors in charge of Mrs. L. G. Jones, assisted by Miss Twila Thompson and Miss Joan Grogg both of Columbus, who served Their flowers were American beauty and yellow gladioli, as were those of Miss McDonald, soloist. Miss McMahan's flowers were blue baby asters

The reception was attended by 125. Centering the table was a four-tier wedding cake. Around its base were branches of fern and pink gladioli. Across the back of the table was a border of fern and pink gladioli and on either side of the cake were white candles in crystal candleholders.

For a wedding trip to New York, the bride wore a black soft flannel suit with black accessories. Her sweetheart-shaped hat was accented with a black plume, and her corsage was her wedding orchid.

A graduate of Harding High school, the bride has been employed at the Marion Engineer depot. She has been making her home with Mr. and Mrs Kenneth Frayer of 453 Summit street. Her husband, also a graduate of Harding High school, is an employe of the White Haines Optical Co here He was in the Army three years and served in Europe They will make their home for the present with his parents

After rehearsal at the church Friday night, the wedding party went to the home of the bridegroom's parents, where the bride's attendants were presented with gold bracelets and the best man, ushers and ring bearer were given tie clasps

Out-of-town guests at the wedding and reception included Mr and Mrs. Roscoe Dennis and Mrs. Bell Dennis of Cardington, Mrs Virgie Campbell, Mr. and Mrs Charles Carlisle and William Kirchbaum of Crestline, Donald Kirchbaum of Westerville, Mr and Mrs Harold Coen, Mrs Maye Carmean, Mr. and Mrs Frank Brown, Mr. and Mrs Paul Carmean, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carmean, Mr and Mrs. Cloyd Carmean, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wiseman, Mrs. Vivian Kern, M and Mrs. Ed Warren, Mr and Lewis Olrey, Mr and Mrs Legnty, Mr and Mrs. L Thomson, Mr. and Mrs. W Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W Rutherford, Mr. and Mrs. Zieber, and Mr. and Mrs. P Carmean, all of Columbus and Mrs. Charles Carr Galena, Mr and Mrs. A ning and Mrs. Forrestt of Athens; Miss Lucy Delaware, and Carl Cincinnati.

LOREN FULTON WINS COUNTY 4-H CONTEST

Will Seek State Title in Farm Electric Competition.

Loren A. Fulton, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Fulton of north of Claridon, is entered in the state Better Farm and Home Methods Electric contest, after taking first honors in the county competition. Virgil B. Hite, 18, of north of Marion, placed second in the county and third honors went to Dale E. Rinehart, 18, of the Martel community.

The county contest was held following a study of various phases of electricity conducted early this summer for 4-H club boys and girls.

Loren will compete with more than 20 other county winners in the state for a place in the national contest. His report was on how he and his father could save time and labor by installing an electric grinder to grind the feed for their poultry instead of hauling it to the mill to be ground. He is secretary of the Buckeye Lads 4-H club.

Virgil Hite, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Hite of Marion, R4, is president of the Better Farmers 4-H club in Grand Prairie township. His project was the use of electricity to pump water for hogs. Dale E. Rinehart, son of Mr and Mrs. Walter Rinehart of Galion, R 2, is a member of the Martel Future Farmers 4-H club. His project to save time and energy was the use of electricity to grind feed for the hogs on the Rinehart farm.

Indiana Minister To Preach at Mt. Gilead

Rev. Thomas

Rev. Fred Thomas of Elkhart, Ind., will open services of the autumn revival of the Mt. Gilead Nazarene church Tuesday night, Rev. W. W. Loveless, pastor, announced. Beginning to preach when 15 years of age, Rev. Thomas has been in the ministry 25 years and has held services in many states of this country and in Canada. Special music and singing will be a part of the revival. Services will be each night at 7:45 through Oct. 12 and will be open to the public, Rev. Loveless stated.

Youth Hurt in Crash Now in Fair Condition

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Sept. 27—Craig Gottfried, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gottfried, of near this city, who was seriously injured in a crossing accident in which Thomas G. Wilson, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Wilson was killed, remains in a fair condition at Bucyrus City hospital.

X-ray pictures at the hospital revealed a small fracture of the left hip bone, and a slight possibility of a fractured skull. Gottfried also suffered many cuts and bruises. He remained in a semi-conscious condition most of yesterday.

Funeral services for Wilson were conducted today from the Salem Evangelical United Brethren church east of this city, with burial in Old Mission cemetery here.

EASY PAYMENTS?
SURE!

See what this brand-new Fireball engine can do for Buicks built in the past ten years

You see here a hood-filling straight-eight power plant exactly like those which put an eager rush of Fireball energy at the command of folks who own 1947 Buicks.

But you don't have to be the owner of a 1947 Buick to boss this husky package of concentrated power around!

You don't have to wonder, "How about delivery?"

If you hanker for the thrill of having, beneath your toe, the surging power of a new Fireball engine, we're in a position to talk business right now.

How come? The answer is simple:

Out in the Buick factories, engine production is forging ahead – engines are coming off the line faster than bodies or other parts needed to build complete automobiles.

All of which means we can give you prompt delivery on 1947 power plants – brand-new, straight-from-the-factory Buick engines, ready to repower any Buick built in the past ten years.

If you own a Buick built between 1937 and 1942, the whole thing boils down to this:

We lift out the old engine – put in a new one – and send you on your happy way in less time than it would take for an overhaul.

That's why we say, buying one of these engines is the next best thing to getting a new Buick – and when you do get a new one, you'll have a better car to turn in.

Come in and let us show you how simple the whole thing is.

The First Shot

SENATOR TAFT has fired the first shot in the partisan battle over foreign policy that was suspended during wartime on the New Deal excuse that only Franklin D Roosevelt was smart enough to negotiate with Joe Stalin. "Nuts," says Senator Taft, "let's look at the record."

The United States has lost the peace, he explained to the world affairs council of Tacoma Thursday night, because it has forgotten it was supposed to be fighting for the "four freedoms." Since there can be no real peace without justice —and there was no justice in what the Roosevelt administration did—therefore there is no peace. The United States sold itself, so to speak, down the river—the Volga river.

Part of the error was the mistaken belief that Stalin could be turned into an "angel of light" A larger part was caused by the half-baked philosophy of the New Deal that caused it to load up the government with so many Communists and fellow travelers that the Truman administration must spend millions of dollars of public money to weed them out.

The upshot of it was that the United States handed Russian imperialists the Balkans, the Baltics, Berlin, Vienna, part of Poland and other territories and populations in direct violation of the Atlantic charter, thereby giving the lie to this government's own war aims As far as Taft is concerned, this is something for the Truman administration to explain by itself Bipartisanship in foreign policy, such as it was—and it never covered Russian affairs—should be abandoned.

Foreign policy should be left to the executive department when things are going all right, he believes, but it must be judged by results "The last three years have created a situation as bad or worse than that which existed before the war,' asserts Senator Taft," and have brought the world to a state of economic collapse . the administration has no basis for appealing to the people for further confidence."

There remains only Senator Vandenberg's renunciation of a setup in which he, as Republican representative, had to share responsibility for decisions which he didn't help make, to explode the myth that American foreign policy is not a political issue.

They Can't Afford 'Em

THE theory used to be that in times of high industrial activity labor unions were most likely to strike Today the industrial output is high, yet strikes are at their lowest point since early in 1946 and near the record peacetime low for the last 15 years.

The federal mediation and conciliation service says the present industrial peace is attributable to the Taft-Hartley act only to the extent that uncertainty over it has deferred strikes Rather, the agency believes, industrial relations are in the calm after the storm.

Another reason may be that it's too expensive to strike nowadays. A dollar goes so fast the accumulated savings would disappear quickly in a strike layoff.

What Will They Prove?

THREE subcommittees of the joint committee on the economic report have been conducting hearings around the country, one in charge of Representative George H. Bender holding sessions in Cleveland They are operating on instruction from the main committee "to make a full and complete study and investigation of the present high prices of consumer goods" and to report to congress their findings not later than February.

While the investigators are carrying out instructions in conducting these hearings, there is doubt whether they are accomplishing anything Statistics and facts on wages, profits, production and consumption are available nationally and have been for years. Over and over the committees are told what they know already—that prices are too high and that the people are not happy about it

The hearings follow the same pattern. There is the housewife with market baskets showing what a dollar used to buy and what it buys now. Labor witnesses blame profits. Business and industry point to wages and costs. Left-wingers urge reestablishment of price controls, but refrain from mentioning wage controls Right-wingers say government controls will foster black markets. Everybody does his best to pass the buck.

The law of supply and demand is intrinsically simple and hasn't been repealed in detail. These hearings will prove that and nothing more—and it didn't need proving in the first place.

Longer Men

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO—Men's suits, as well as women's skirts, are getting longer A State street store reports that 35 per cent of the men's suits sold this season were "longs" compared with 20 per cent before World War II. The survey affirms scientific studies showing men are getting taller.

Saul Among the Prophets

By RAYMOND MOLEY

More Than Enough Economic Forecasters.

KING SAUL, after many troubles, decided, as far as prophets were concerned, that there was safety in numbers And so he prophesied among the prophets It is hardly necessary to add that his decision did not save him from a sad fate. But that need suggest no modern parallel

Not long after President Truman entered the White House, he vigorously endorsed the Murray full employment bill. That bill, it will be recalled, provided that each year the President should present a picture of business conditions, as well as a prophecy extending 18 months ahead It also obligated the government to meet all deficits in employment at public expense.

When the bill was finally passed, in 1946, it was shorn of everything except the prophecy department That function is carried on by the President's council of economic advisers, which has an excellent chairman and which has regularly issued reports It is to the credit of the council that it has been fairly conservative in the realm of prophecy

Other "Help"

But, like Saul, the President is not dependent solely upon his council for prophetic advisers. There is also a joint committee on the economic report, set up by congress to check over and compete with the President's council. The department of agriculture has many agencies peering into the future, among which is the bureau of agricultural economics, which deals in long-range forecasts The bureau of labor statistics and the employment service, too, are in the forecasting business And the department of commerce is also well equipped with official predictors

Despite the President's wealth of assistance, budget predictions have not been wholly fortunate. For the budget year 1946-47, the federal income was estimated at $22,000,000,000 and turned out to be about $42,000,000,000

Lewis Overlooked

Since early spring the chairman of the President's council has said various things about talking prices down. But this technique fails to work. John L. Lewis, whose views of the future are revealed to no man and who greatly believes in the present, spoiled all calculations by boosting his miners' wages And then, despite predictions to the contrary, prices of coal, steel, automobiles and almost everything else went up

The food situation was undoubtedly aggravated by some pessimistic utterances by the emergency food control board and the FAO.

We are far from decrying human efforts to stabilize things by prudent foresight But it may be suggested, in view of all we are spending on prophecy, that a few improvements are in order

Some Possibilities

In the first place, the federal government might seek the development of new tools of observation Duplications and contradictions among present agencies should be reduced Second, greater modesty and conservatism might be observed by expert forecasters The nation needs fact finders, but should not expect soothsayers Finally, the government should strictly abstain from efforts to influence the economic weather by mere talk Such talk from eminent official authorities is likely to overdo its purpose or to have no effect at all. President Roosevelt's unfortunate attack on copper prices in 1937 is still fresh in memory. The many occasions when the OPA started stampedes by premature announcements of price fixing can still be recalled.

Makes Own Decisions

The wise American businessman pays for many forecasts, but he seems to make his decisions himself. He has learned that his experts agree only about the past But when a government agency speaks, the average American is likely to be unduly influenced He doesn't realize that the government speaks with any voices and that those voices may not be speaking a common language

Good Things Come In Big Packages, Too

A Detroit labor umpire has ruled that a motor company has no right to deny two ladies jobs merely because they are overweight.

That's the biggest boon to fat folks since invention of the two-way stretch.

The old saying, "Nobody loves a fat man," originated at an employment agency.

Moreover, while it's usually only wishful thinking, the average citizen hires a stenographer as though she were going to spend eight hours a day on his lap The result too frequently has been that the emphasis is on avoirdupois rather than ability.

Big girls are intelligent, capable, conscientious and loyal. Not only that, but there's more of them. Besides, it's un-American to discriminate against anyone because of their race, color, creed or girth.

Fat people have to eat just like everybody else, except more. And, while they may go in for dieting, they prefer to do it voluntarily.

Japanese Fare Badly

By FRANK TRIPP

I HAVE my first postwar letter from a Japanese newspaperman with whom I traveled Japan, Korea and Manchuria. Thought you might get something out of it.

He has a country place of four acres, tolerably big for Japan, has a charming high-caste wife, a daughter 22, just married. He worked some years for a prominent American newspaper. Snatches from his letter:

"I was against war. For a year before Pearl Harbor I did my best to prevent it. Many Japanese were of the same mind. Some of my associates were imprisoned. For months I was constantly watched; police and gendarmes came to my house daily In my absence my wife had to entertain them and keep them in good humor

"They had power to do anything, lawfully or unlawfully. Strangely, the moment war started their surveillance ceased. They knew that then no one could alter the course of the militarists.

"So it came to war. As a good American you did everything in your power to help your country win and I am proud to say I did the same as a good Japanese. If we had met on the battlefield we would have done our best to kill each other. That is war.

"Then war ended Punishment which the victor brings on the defeated is a matter between nations and should not be forced by individuals upon individuals. The punishment will bring hardship to us, to me and my family, which we must bear bravely. We feel no grudge against you or any individual in your country."

His home was not bombed. He plowed his lawns, uprooted his trees and turned all of his land into farm, grew potatoes, wheat and vegetables; lived fairly well. His house was always filled with less fortunate refugees. In the midst of an air raid one such guest gave birth to a child when no lights could be lighted and while American planes flew overhead.

"Most of the people knew long before the surrender that we could not win; the masses knew it," he says.

"All realize that it is fortunate that the Americans are occupying the country and not Soviet, Chinese or others We are getting along very well with American forces.

"The rich and poor are suffering The property tax took most of the wealth. People with a million yen or more were reduced to 100,000 yen. All deposits are frozen. We can live only on current income. Business cannot pay operating costs Dissolution of big corporations makes it impossible for small firms to get financing.

"Everything is scarce, particularly clothing. We have no sugar, butter, coffee, chocolate or candies. My daughter cannot remember the taste of sugar. You cannot imagine that a half gram of saccharin costs Y3 to Y4. Black markets flourish."

(Y3 to Y4 means 3 to 4 yen. The yen is the Japanese dollar; ordinarily bought a dollar's worth of their goods. The sen is their penny, 100 to a yen. The current low exchange value of the yen in our money, 50 to 1, means nothing to the Japanese for he has none of our money to exchange. Before the war he was a well paid workman who was paid Y8 for a nine-hour day)

My correspondent continues: "Cigarets that sold for 15 sen a pack now cost Y30 (200 times the old price). Scarce cigars cost Y10 each. Cigarets are rationed five a day to men and one a day to women.

"All restaurants and lunch rooms are closed One must carry all his food from home wherever he goes. Caught in Tokyo, I bought several bags of peanuts for a lunch. One bag that formerly sold for one sen now costs Y10 (like jumping from one cent to $10 in America). I counted the peanuts in one bag There were 24. So a single peanut was more than 40 sen.

"The news of the surrender on Aug. 15, 1945, was indeed a great relief to us all.' I told my wife that we were going to surrender. She burst into tears and said, 'We are saved'"

His letter was in answer to one from me I asked him particularly about Okada, who was premier when I was in Japan and whose hospitality I enjoyed The young militarists tried to assassinate him in 1936, got his brother-in-law by mistake. Okada never would have warred with the United States.

Of that steady old head, once an admiral, now crowding 80, the letter says:

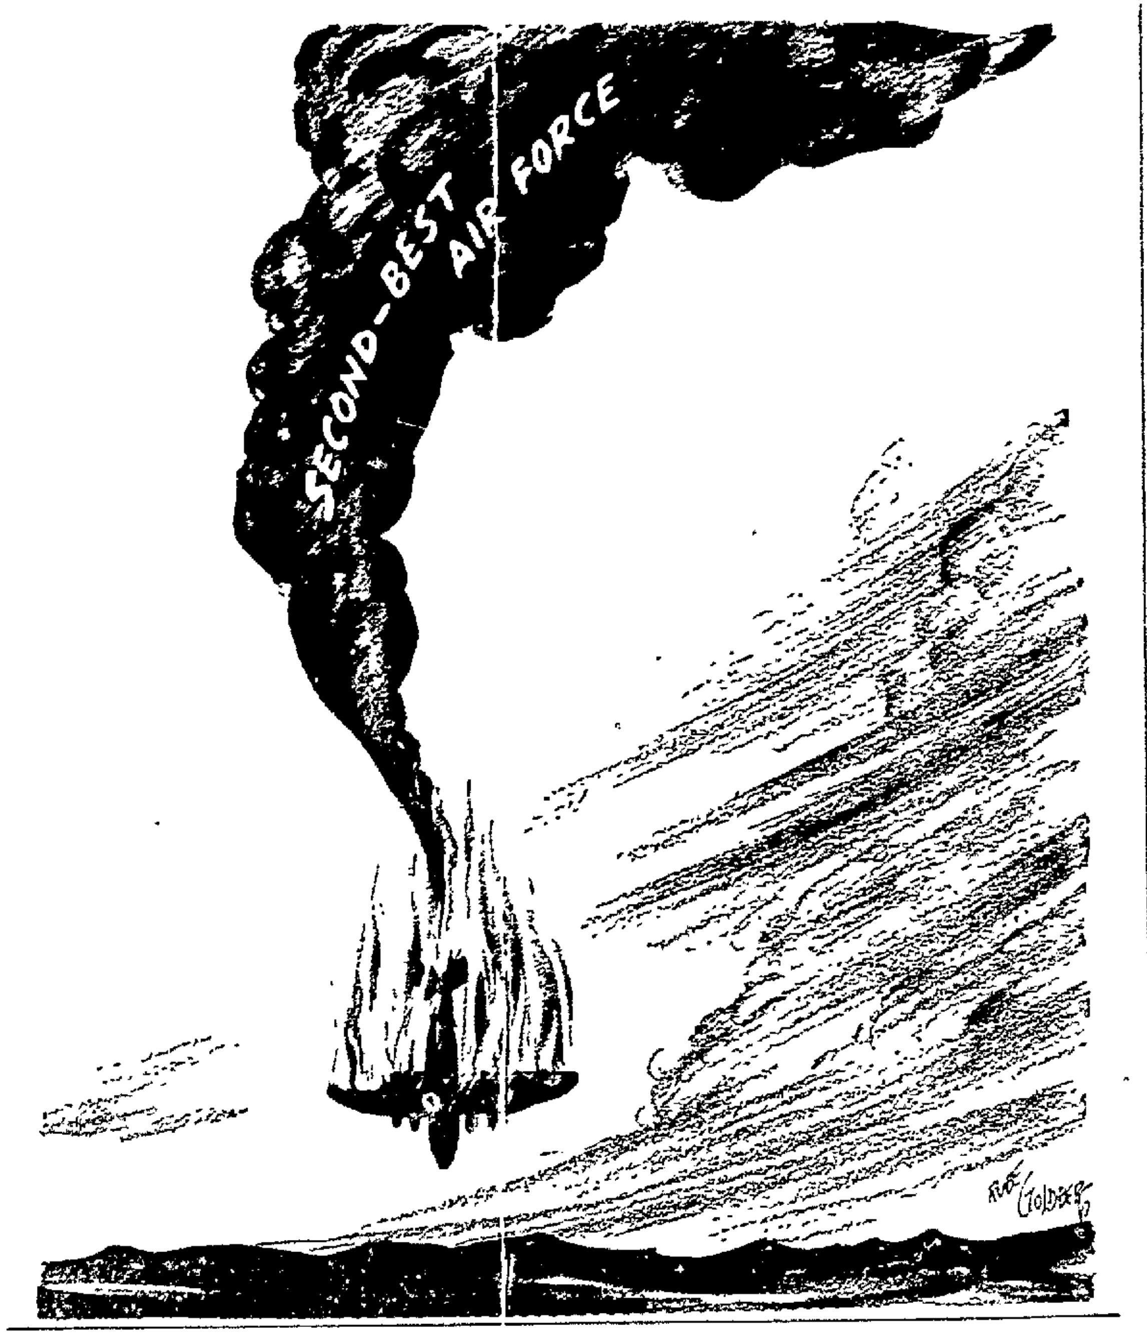
"Okada is now quite an important figure, politically and otherwise. After the ending of the war he wielded strong influence in political circles. If he lives long he will again become a powerful leader when the country settles down"

These are words from a type of Japanese of whom Americans hear little, one of the many of them who were helpless to prevent war and who have made MacArthur's grand job easier.

Daily Bible Thought

Good government would be simple if voters and office holders followed this simple rule It works well in all human activities 'Hate the evil and love the good, and establish judgment in the state.'—Amos 5:15.

THE LOSER IN THE NEXT WAR



From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Monday, Sept 27, 1937.

Russia and Japan were reported concentrating huge bodies of troops along the already heavily guarded frontier of Siberia and Manchukuo

George D. Hildebrandt was named general chairman for the annual financial campaign of the Marion Y M C A. to be held the following month Charles H Isaly was named chairman of the initial gifts committee. Both were appointed by Judge Hector S. Young, president of the board.

Mrs Howard Payne and Mrs William Yochum entertained at the Payne home on Clover avenue for the pleasure of Mrs Bertha Baldauf, who was visiting here from Los Angeles, Calif.

Mrs Mabel Peterson and Mrs Etta Bechtel of Barnhart street left for Dayton to attend the grand temple meeting of the Pythian Sisters.

The ashes of Claude W. Doty, former Marion resident whose death occurred Nov. 21, 1931, were interred in the Doty family plot in the Marion cemetery. The commitment service was conducted by his son, Rev. Walter P. Doty of New York City.

Dozens of Marion county nimrods went afield to make the most of the brief squirrel hunting season that opened the preceding Saturday and was to close on Oct. 10

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Tuesday, Sept 27, 1927.

Gene Tunney returned to New York City, his home town, from his victory over Jack Dempsey at Soldiers' field, Chicago and was given a conquering hero's welcome, nearly 2,000 persons jamming the concourse of the Grand Central station to cheer him.

Announcement was made that Rev Howard L. Olewiler, pastor of the Forest Hills Presbyterion church at Wilkinsburg, a suburb of Pittsburgh, had accepted a call to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church here and expected to take up his duties the latter part of Ocober.

Nelson L. Wolfe, 90, Civil War veteran and lifelong Marion county resident, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. L. Brobeck of Sugar street.

Announcement was made of the formal opening of the Musser Floral Co shop at 120 South State street

Theft of jewels valued at $7,000 was discovered at the home of Mrs. P. E. Studebaker on East Church street and police were looking for a young man who was suspected of having committed the robbery while posing as a telephone repair man.

Miss Virginia Lott and Miss Luella Gravina entertained the Delta Game-a Bridge club with a party at Miss Lott's home on South Prospect street, given as a farewell for Miss Margaret Muntsinger, who was to leave soon for her new home in Dayton and for Mrs George Pfuchel, who was to leave for Cincinnati to join her husband.

Rise of Two U. S. Policies

By WALTER LIPPMANN

IN the first article of this series, I said that Mr. X's article on "the sources of Soviet conduct" was "a document of primary importance on the sources of American foreign policy" in that it disclosed to the world the estimates, the calculations, and the conclusions on which is based that part of American foreign policy which is known as the Truman doctrine.

Fortunately, it seems to me the Truman doctrine does not have a monopoly. Though it is a powerful contender for the control of our foreign policy, there are at least two serious competitors in the field

The one, we may call the Marshall line, and the other is the American commitment to support the United Nations.

The contest between the Truman doctrine on the one hand, the Marshall line and the support of U N on the other, is the central drama within the State Department.

The real issue is hidden because the Truman doctrine was promulgated shortly after Gen. Marshall became secretary of state, and because he made the decision to go to the support of Greece and Turkey, which was a concrete application of the Truman doctrine. The issue is confused by the fact that Mr. Molotov and the Soviet propaganda abroad and many publicists here at home are representing the Marshall proposals to Europe as an application of the Truman doctrine. The confusion is compounded still more because the director of Secretary Marshall's planning staff is now known, through the publicaton of Mr. X's article, to have been the leading expert upon whose observations, predictions, and hypotheses the Truman doctrine is based.

Nevertheless, if we look at the two main theaters of American diplomatic interests—at China and at Europe—and if we fix our attention on Secretary Marshall's approach, we can see a line of policy developing which is altogether different from the line of the Truman doctrine

General Marshall's report on China, which has now been reviewed and confirmed by Gen Wedemeyer, made it quite clear that in his judgment we could not, and should not, attempt the kind of intervention in China which we are carrying on in Greece.

The Marshall and Wedemeyer reports do not argue that we can contain the Soviet Union and erect unassailable barriers in its path by participating in the Chinese civil war as we are in the Greek civil war, and by underwriting Chang Kai-shek's government as we are underwriting the Athens govenment The Marshall line in China is not an application of the Truman doctrine, but of an older American doctrine that we must not become entangled all over the world in disputes we alone cannot settle.

Yet the Marshall line in China is not isolationist It would not end in our ceasing to interest ourselves in China and in giving Russia a free hand. But it is emphatically not the line of the Truman doctrine which would involve us as partisans in the Chinese conflict and as patrons of one faction.

Policy in China

The line of the Marshall policy in China is to disentangle the United States, to reduce, not to extend our commitments in Asia, to give up the attempt to contol events which we do not have the power, the influence, the means and the knowledge, to control

The proposal Secretary Marshall addressed to Europe in his Harvard speech last June was animated by the same fundamental conception—as China's problem has to be dealt with primarily by the Chinese, so European problems have to be dealt with primarily by Europeans.

Thus, there was no "Marshall plan" for Europe. The essence of his proposal was that only a European plan for Europe could save Europe, or provide a basis on which the American people could prudently and fairly be asked to help Europe save itself. The Marshall proposal was not as Mr. Molotov and many Americans who do not understand it have tried to make out. an extension to Europe as a whole of the experiment in Greece.

In Greece we made an American plan, appropriated the money, entered Greece, and are now trying to induce the Greek government to carry out our plan In the Harvard speech Secretary Marshall reversed this procedure. He told the European governments to plan their own rehabilitation, and that then he would go to Congress for funds.

The difference is fundamental. The Truman doctrine treats those who are supposed to benefit by it as dependencies of the United States, as instruments of the American policy for "containing" Russia. The Marshall speech at Harvard treats the European governments as independent powers, whom we must help, but cannot presume to govern, or to use as instruments of an American policy.

The Harvard speech was delivered about three months after President Truman's message Much had happened in those three months, and all of it had gone to show that while Congress and the people were willing to applaud the Truman doctrine, because they are exasperated with Russia, they were not going to support it with the funds and blanket authority which it requires. Though the President got the funds he asked for in order to apply his doctrine in Greece and Turkey, he got them after a long delay

Joe Libido

By TRUMAN TWILL

An acquaintance of ours was explaining other day why he always says he is fine greeted with the national rhetorical que "How are you?"

You see, he explained, he always is Maybe he has a bad cold, or a broken leg that isn't what people mean when they "How are you?" They don't want to know the state of a person's health They are inqu you might say, about the state of the soul individual that lives inside the body At that's the way our acquaintance prefers to terpret it

Under the circumstances it didn't seem to wonder whether people really mean at all when they mumble "How are because there are plenty of occasions whe question is purposeful and deserves an But afterward we got to thinking about the answers that might be forthcoming if body began to interpret "How are you" same way our acquaintance interprets it.

Unlike him, unfortunately, not all of fine—apart from our physical aches that is. If we ever got into complications to describe the latter, imagine the comp we'd get into if we tried to say someth sonably honest about the state of our sou inner selves. For instance, "How are you T. Twill?"

Oh me, I'm upset—mentally, that is have got hold of some tainted ideas som Whatever happened, the result is one most severe mental bellyaches on reco must have been something picked up from ing about the United Nations Assembly

The worst of it is, the scars from that acc which occurred at the meeting of Suppl Demand still haven't stopped throbbing cast Twill in the role of an innocent by on that one, and when the trouble began it from both sides. They had to take 37 —mental ones, of course.

Been having more than ordinary trouble doubt this season too They've got se truth, but nothing to help misgivings, wh poisonous to most people In fact, even ing the stuff is enough to bring on a ful case of the mental hives—nasty, itching

Fortunately, they're rarely fatal—not so dangerous as being bitten by the tse-tse fly that spreads sleeping sickness conscience A lot of that going around th son. In fact, it's spreading fastest amo of the best people.

Still, on the whole, a fellow can't co too much There's always someone worse—mentally, that is. There must be at the insane asylums. Be seeing you Next time it will be your turn to tell ho are—the real you—the guy that lives Joe Libido in person.

The Christianity Needed Today

A Sermonette

By REV. ALBERT M. HOOD

Pastor of Second Pilgrim Holiness Church

Text, Luke 4:18-19, "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; He hath sent me to heal the broken hearted, to preach deliverance to captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised.

"To preach the acceptable year of the Lord."

CHRIST is back in Nazareth, the place where He had been brought up, there, "as was His custom. He went to the synagogue on the Sabbath Day." Sabbath worship held its place in the life of the Christ, no doubt inspiring the Hebrew writer to pen, ". . . Not to forsake the assembling of yourself together as the manner of some is . . ."

In the synagogue, Christ takes the book of Isaiah and reads the above text. Here in these two verses is outlined the work of every true worker of Christ as exampled in their great leader, the Christianity needed to meet today's need.

The first requisite is "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me . . ." all that follows these words is dead and of no avail unless we are in a right relationship to God with His Spirit abiding in and upon our hearts. It is the Spirit that leads us out into these many activities and uses us to the best advantage in each one Christ gave an anointed ministry to the world, and in that ministry He gave the world the Christianity it needed Many have the "form of godliness today, with few possessing the real power of God," even professing the power of God. May God help us to realize that it is only through the power of God in the working of the Holy Spirit, that we can have this real Christianity, today.

This is the Christianity that reaches the neglected classes Many of our fine churches of today, pull their self-righteous garments about them, seclude themselves to the church of their choice, with no thought to those in actual need. Our Scripture states "Poor" Poverty in these days of prosperity especially in the physical sense is little known. Yet, we dare not stop at just the physical poverty, but gaze in stark reality upon the deep poverty in the hearts and lives of people, in their relationship to God. Unless our Christianity is powerful enough to reach the poor both in body and in spirit, it is not a true Christianity.

This is the Christianity that offers hope and comfort in "healing for the broken hearted." Where could one go but to God for the comforting words, 'Yea though I walk through the Valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for Thou art with me, Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me." and again, "Blessed are they that mourn for they shall be comforted." In there days of sin and sorrow, pain and death, as we travel over our span of life, our hearts are often made to bleed and often are broken. How very blessed to find our "hope steadfast and true" able to comfort our hearts in the hours of greatest need.

This is the Christianity that affords light and freedom for those enslaved in the enemy's powers. Created by God, bought by His Son, and sought by His Spirit, Satan can have no rightful claim upon us, unless we choose to be his servants. Our obedience to Satan makes us to become captive to his powers, and once in the powers of Satan we find it takes the power of anointed Christianity to bring us any hope of freedom. "For whosoever the Son sets free is free indeed," and how glorious that freedom, when from sin we have been set free.

Blinded by the powers of darkness we are led on and on until, "How great is that darkness" The spiritual darkness of the day is appalling. The scripture "Where there is no vision" is fulfilled in all its reality now as people perish all about us Multitudes all about us rush out to meet God unprepared, blinded in spiritual darkness which only Christ can dispel, if he can get access to our heart.

This is a personal Christianity and may our Heavenly Father help us to know God for ourself and not another Know God in the forgiveness of sins, the adoption into His family, in the abiding presence of the Holy Spirit in sanctifying power, in our own heart. Great movements involve great numbers, but it is the individual's personal relationship to God that carries the greatest weight in the biggest movement This is the Christianity of Christ, needed so much today in a personal experience.

The Christianity of Christ bespeaks of the retribution of the wicked. "The acceptable year of the Lord." Men may spurn the Christ of God, reject the great plan of salvation, live wicked and sinful lives, but in that "Acceptable year of the Lord," find they will be turned out with the goats into everlasting punishment, while the redeemed go in with their Lord. Little thought is given to hell, and the great trend is all thought given to heaven It is an inevitable fact found in God's eternal truths that the Lake of Fire is prepared for the devil and his followers. This is the message of true Christianity, and helps men to, by the help of God, "flee from the wrath to come" and rest in the Christianity of Christ.

HEAR THE WORD of GOD

The Bible is the inspired, infallible Word of God. When we read it, or hear it read, God speaks to us. The only revelation of God that this world has is the Word of God. It is a lamp to light our pathway. Hearing the Word of God makes the Christian grow stronger in the Lord and creates in the heart of the non-Christian saving faith.

Small Home of Compact Design Planned to Come in Low-Cost Range

YOUR HOME TODAY and TOMORROW

by W. Wadsworth Wood

One glance at the illustration showing the elevation of this one-story house is enough to intrigue anyone who might be interested in low-cost housing. There is a certain air of solidity, of good-design and spaciousness, which is sadly missing in the average, minimum-cost dwelling. Few designers would have the forethought to carry out the roof rafters so that they would shade the ceiling windows, and few of them would place the windows far up in the wall, so that the small house would have plenty of room for the furniture without encroaching on window space. Most of us who live in small houses know what it means to place beds across windows or to place chests of drawers so that they mask a window.

This house is about 25 feet square. It offers a living room which would do credit to a house twice size. It presents a very good double bedroom, a kitchen and a bathroom. The closet-space is remarkable. The house has excellent expansion possibilities in three directions. It can be built at an extremely low cost. There are no restrictions regarding the exterior finish or the type of building materials to be used in the construction. The house may be built as a shell, with four walls and a roof; and finished as the owner's time or purse permits.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Roof Repairs

Q. My wood shingle roof needs repairs. I would like to paint it after loose and defective shingles are repaired and replaced. Please advise what is the best kind of paint for this purpose, or would you recommend a shingle stain? I must do the work myself.

A. By all means use a stain. This will soak into the fiber of the wood and give color, but will allow the shinges to dry out more quickly after a rain than would be the case if paint were used. Paint seals the surface, and water that works up under the shingles dries out so slowly that rotting is likely to set in. Paint can be used on siding shingles, because drainage is so quick that water does not soak in; but roof shingles should be stained. When renailing the shingles get best quality rust-resistant nails. You can buy a ready-mixed shingle stain, or make your own by the following formula: mix 4 parts raw linseed oil, 2 parts of coal tar creosote oil, and 1 part of Japan drier. This mixture is dark.

Stone Steps Cracked

Q. My brownstone steps are cracked and chipped off on the ends. Is there any way to repair them?

A. If you can get a mason to do the work, the result will be better than an amateur job. If you must do it yourself, first clean and roughen the chipped edges. Then build a wood form to hold the patching mixture while it is setting and hardening. Wet the stone before placing the mixture. Patch with a fairly stiff mortar mixture consisting of one part portland cement, one part of clean coarse sand and limeproof, mineral color to approximate the brownstone color; metallic brown (oxide) may give the right color.

Use no more than nine pounds of the color for each sack of cement. Mix the ingredients dry, then add the water. Cracks should be cut out so that they are deeper and wider underneath than at the surface. Brush out loose bits and wet the inside of the cracks, then pack with the above mixture. Keep all new patches damp for several days for "curing."

Iodine Stain

Q. Several weeks ago I spilled some decolorized iodine (white) in my bathroom sink, and it has left a yellow stain. How can I remove it?

A. Wipe the stain with household ammonia, then rinse with clear water. Or wipe with a solution of one tablespoonful of photographic hypo in a pint of water.

By The Associated Press

A maximum house on a minimum plot can be obtained in conventional two-story construction. This dwelling, designed by Architect Maurice E. Thornton, 5892 Compton drive, Indianapolis 5, Ind., as his plan No. 4002, was planned for an inside lot. It contains 20,000 cubic feet, including a two-car garage arranged in tandem style for economy, and a full basement. The layout is efficient, with bath directly above kitchen to keep plumbing work at a minimum, and central chimney serving both fireplace and heating plant. Specifications include blue shingles to harmonize with blue door and blue shutters on steel windows.

CHECK HEATING SYSTEMS

By International News Service

ATHENS, Ga—An eight-story student apartment building now under construction on the campus of Georgia School of Technology will give architects and engineers their first opportunity to study the differences between radiant and convector heating systems in a multi-story building. The structure, a part of a four million dollar student housing project at Georgia Tech, is being built in the form of a letter, "H" One wing will be heated by means of wrought iron pipe coils concealed in the concrete floor slabs and the other wing by conventional type convectors

BOWLING RESULTS

Snyder stars for 600 series totals in the Classic league.

Thursday night the Snyder family, father Roy and son Maynard, blistered the Palace Recreation lanes for three game totals of 615 and 626. Snyder's 225, 177 and 213 games were turned in for Marion Power Shovel, while son Maynard's 215, 188 and 223 games helped Floyd Rieser Market defeat Saratoga Grill.

Gene Gunder, rolling 613 for Safety Cabs and Dick Eicher, bowling for City Furniture Market, kept the alleys almost as hot Eicher's 246 was high single game turned in

Other 200 toppers in that league were: Gunder, 200 and 223, Shoemaker, 223, Randell, 214, Burdell, 209, Hogan, two 200's, Barber 213, Mounts 213, Hanovich 211, Chamberlain 210 Mull 202, Darnell 236, Greenland 200, Hinkler, 212, Luse 208 and 214, and Buettin, 236

In the Huber league, bowling at the Palace Thursday, high single men's game went to R. Arthur, a 210 women's, C Willmeth, 171; high men's series, R Edington, 511; high women's series, R. Cook, 441. Other over 200 men's games were scored by Armbruster, 205, and Bannell, 205. Women beating 150 were Kime, 155, and Cook, 170.

In the Ladies' Thursday Afternoon league bowling at the Palace, Margie Krause turned in a high single game of 210, and high series of 531.

The Fraternal league bowled Thursday at the Marion Recreation.

Essay Contest Set for Foremen

Will Be Part of Marion's "Employ the Physically Handicapped Week."

The Marion committee for the observance of the national "Employ the Physically Handicapped Week" Oct 5-11, has announced it will sponsor an essay contest for foremen in Marion's industries. Purpose of the contest, according to Harold Douthitt, of the Marion Power Shovel company chairman of the local committee, is to arouse interest of the foremen in whose departments the opportunities for employment originate

Subject of the essay is simply the answer to the question "Why I Feel It's Good Business to Hire the Handicapped Worker."

The committee stresses the point that grammatical errors and composition will be overlooked in choosing the winner and that the $50 cash prize being put up by the committee will go to the foreman who submits the best practical answer to the question.

Foremen throughout Marion's industries Friday received a letter from Mr. Douthitt explaining the purpose of the drive and the importance the part taken by the men who have the responsibility of placing workers in the proper jobs, can play

Points Emphasized

In urging supervisors to throw their weight behind the employment drive, Mr Douthitt pointed to the responsibility of the foremen to provide facts that will help to make "Employ the Physically Handicapped Week" fully effective, facts that will help assure a productive year-around effort as well as facts that prove to the employer and to other foremen that the handicapped worker is just as good and sometimes better than a normal employe if he is properly fitted for the job he is doing and adjusted according to his capabilities and physical limitations

Mr Douthitt said it has been the experience of employers where physically handicapped workers were placed in industry that their production has equaled or even surpassed that of non-handicaped workers, and their absenteeism is at the same time practically nil.

Not Matter of Sympathy

The Ohio State Employment service also emphasized the fact that placement of physically limited workers definitely should not be from the standpoint of sympathy, and placement should not be made until the handicapped person has been thoroughly analyzed and the opening in the department over which the foreman has control has been carefully studied not only from the standpoint of physical demands but from the point of hazards involved

The rules of the contest are as follows

1 All essays must be in the hands of Harold H Douthitt, Chairman of the NEPH Committee, Care Marion Power Shovel Company, Marion Ohio, on or before midnight, Monday, October 5, 1947.

2 Length of essay will be limited to a maximum of 200 words

3 Essays can be either typewritten or in longhand

4 We desire the answer in the foreman's own words as to why he feels it's good business to hire the handicapped worker—spelling, grammatical errors, punctuation and the like will not be considered

5 All contestants must give full name, address, name of employer and department in which employed

6. Any foreman participating in this contest must be presently employed as a foreman in one of Marion's Industries.

7. The NEPH committee shall name five persons who will act as judges of the contest—2 from Labor 2 from Management, and 1 civic-minded person representing the community.

8 No member of the NEPH Committee will be eligible to compete in this contest

9 The decision of the judges will be final except in case of a tie where the final decision will be based on the majority of vote of the Committee.

Bucyrus Man Finds Car On Jack, Wheel Stolen

The dinner hour last Monday for D. A. Callentine of Bucyrus proved to be a costly one, according to a report made to city police Friday night.

Callentine told police he had parked in the rear of Hotel Harding at 8 p. m. Monday while he went to eat When he returned an hour later some one had stolen a tire, tube and wheel, leaving the car suspended on a jack. Although a spare was on the car, the thief had taken the right rear wheel leaving that side high and dry on its metal crutch Value of the wheel was given as $28.

Gentlemen's Agreement On Aid Funds Proposed

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept 27—Two Democratic senators suggested today that President Truman try for a "gentleman's agreement" with congressional leaders to use existing federal funds for stopgap aid to Europe during the next three months.

Senators Russell (Ga.) and McClellan (Ark) told a reporter in separate interviews this would be one way to avoid a special session of congress to deal with emergency assistance abroad.

The possibility of a special session call is expected to be one of the things discussed when the President meets leading legislators of both parties in a White House conference Monday.

TAKING THE LEAD IN HOLDING THE PRICE

Taking the lead in holding the price line in the silverware industry, The International Silver Company announced today that despite ever-increasing costs of operation there will be no increase in the price of its products for the remainder of 1947.

"Furthermore, it is our intention to continue this hold-the-line policy as far as possible into the future," stated President Evarts C. Stevens in a message received today by The May Jewelry Co. of Marion. "We have made no significant price increases in our nationally advertised lines since the war and at no time during the life of OPA did we apply for price relief on any line in any quality or price range from sterling silver to the most inexpensive plate. "Even though price increases are justified by much higher costs we believe the interests of the silverware industry will be better served by keeping prices down rather than by raising them. We have great faith in the future of the industry and it is our firm opinion that the bright prospects can be enhanced and prolonged by keeping the prices of our product well within the reach of the buying public."

The International Silver Company is the nation's largest producer of sterling and plated silverware according to The May Jewelry Co. of Marion. It is celebrating the 100th Anniversary of its 1847 Rogers Bros. line with a new plated pattern, "Remembrance."

In addition to its 1847 Rogers Bros. line, The International Silver Co. are producers of International Sterling, Holmes and Edwards Sterling Inlaid, Wm Rogers and Sons, Wm. Rogers and many other famous trademarks most of which are handled by The May Jewelry Co. of Marion.

Move Over Frankie! Butcher From Shamokin Is New Idol

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27—I must extend my sympathy and my apologies today to Dick Rickert, the honest butcher of Shamokin, Pa.

If I'd only known what would happen to Brother Dick (that's what the happy customers call him) I never would have written an item about him selling sirloin steaks for 39 cents a pound and lamb chops for 14 and a half cents.

When that hit print, Acme Newspictures rushed across the land telephoto reproductions of his advertisement in the Shamokin News-Dispatch. If ever a paid advertisement had become a red-hot news picture, this was it.

Photographers hastened to Shamokin and forced Brother Dick, all 259 pounds of him, to pose in the act of slicing 39-cent chuck roasts. Reporters interviewed him, one after another, and Brother Dick patiently repeated the story of his pre-war price tags.

Congressmen Interested

This added up to hard work on Brother Dick's part, long hours, careful buying, conservative meat cutting, and small profits. It also added up to more black headlines. And there was the joint congressional price investigating committee asking whether I could put the lawmakers in touch with Brother Dick.

"We want to shake his hand," the committee said, "and find out how he does it."

So I did the necessary and Brother Dick has received an invitation—not a subpoena, mind you—asking if he possibly can find the time to appear before the subcommittee of Sen. Ralph E. Flanders of Vt., to reveal officially the secret of his 29-cent hamburger and 35-cent rib roasts.

Here he is a national figure already. If he can find a boy to tend his shop while he talks to the senators—and he kind of figures this is his duty—he'll be the best known butcher in America. Then will come the movies, the radio, and I don't know what all—and poor Brother Dick! Life never will be the same again in his Little Giant Market. I'm the inadvertent villain and I apologize.

A peculiar backwash of the story is the fact that there seem to be Brother Dicks selling meats at reasonable prices in many a small city. Why this should be, while butchers in the big towns weigh steaks on jewelers' scales, is a mystery I hope the senators can unravel.

Encloses Similar Ads

Publisher Phil McMullen of the Blackwell, Okla., Journal-Tribune, writes that meat prices in Blackwell are surprisingly similar to those in Shamokin. He encloses a number of ads in his paper this week offering 39-cent chuck roasts, 37-cent wieners and 37-cent pork sausage.

A reader in San Antonio, Tex., forwards grocery advertisements, with prices only slightly higher than in Oklahoma, while a lady Grass Valley, Calif., wirtes that perhaps I'd better move west and forget my troubles.

She sends ads offering 25-cent lamb roasts, 47-cent beef roasts, 35-cent hamburger and 28-cent short ribs to the fortunate residents of Grass Valley and Nevada City, Calif. A similar report with mouth watering advertisements is at hand from Fort Smith, Ark.

All this may be some consolation to Brother Dick; he is not alone. He just had the bad luck of being discovered first. I can assure him only that Sen. Flanders is a nice guy and that the rest of us, all 140,000,000 of us, will be interested in his testimony.

Four New Members Initiated by Grange

Four new members were given the obligation at a meeting of Montgomery Grange Tuesday night. Cletus Uhl, master, presided. Mrs. Clifton Wenig, chairman of the home economics committee, reported on the receipts of the pop concession at the Marion County Fair, and presented plans for the new kitchen in the Grange hall which is to be built from the proceeds of the committees' activities during the past year.

Cletus Uhl, assisted by Roy Anderson, Mrs. Merle Kennedy and Mrs. Clifton Wenig, conducted a quiz program and an insurance program.

Later, a report was made of the activities of the special building committee. Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week, members of the committee, assisted by other members of the Grange, built an addition to the Grange hall to house the pump for the water system. On the committee were Clifton Wenig, who designed the structure, Roy Peters, in charge of transportation of materials, Cletus Uhl, in charge of the laborers, Merle C. Kennedy, supervisor of the concrete work, Kenneth Schultz, in charge of excavations, Roy Anderson, in charge of the carpenter work, and Henry Thibaut, in charge of landscaping.

Others assisting with the work were David Fogle, Frank Johnson, Kenneth Coons, Wesley Jenner, Joe Miller, Charles Wilson, and Richard Hennedy. One Killed as British Board Refugee Ship

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, Sept. 27—One Jew was killed and nine others were injured today when British sailors boarded a refugee ship trying to crack the Palestine coastal blockade with approximately 450 persons aboard.

The Jew slain was shot by a British sailor who "had been surrounded by a party of Jews brandishing crowbars," a government spokesman said. Two other Jews were wounded by gunfire and a British sailor suffered a broken finger.

The ship, named "despite," was intercepted about dawn off the coast.

Officials said resistance was quelled after a 20-minute battle. The ship was a converted LCT (landing tank craft).

Former Resident Of Marion Dies

Word has been received by relatives here of the death of Alonzo Johnson, formerly of Marion, in Columbus Friday. e was a resident of Gahanna. In June he suffered a stroke, had nearly recovered, the family stated, but his condition suddenly became worse and he was taken to a hospital in Columbus shortly before death occurred.

He was born in Marion county about 70 years ago and was a carpenter by trade. He left Marion about 20 years ago. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Anna Leonard Johnson, two sons, Francis and George Johnson, both of the Gahanna community, four grandchildren and a great grandchild. A daughter preceded him in death. Funeral services will be conducted Sunday at 2 p. m. in Gahanna.

Chairmen Named At P.-T.A. Meeting

Following an annual custom members of the executive committee of the Pearl Street P.-T. A. held a pre-season meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Paul Emery of 880 Windsor street, Wednesday night. Committees were named and activities for the school year discussed.

School safety was a major problem discussed and it was the opinion of the group that the proposed change in the light in the school safety zone will not aid the traffic hazard. Mrs. Emery, president, and Mrs. Jules Kepling will represent the group at the state convention to be held in Cincinnati next month. It was announced that the movie projector, contracted for earlier in the year, had arrived and was now in use in the school.

The following chairmen have been named: Mrs. Robert Cleveland, program; Mrs. Roland L. Leeper, devotions; Mrs. A. O. Linscott, music; Mrs. A. T. Allen, social Mrs. Glen Walraven, Mrs. Carl Uncapher, co-chairman, finance; Mrs. Hugh Hay, welfare; Mrs. Harold Fetter, publicity; Mrs. Kepling, magazine; Mrs. Robert Craven, membership; Mrs. Roy Newell, Mrs. W. T. Bland, co-chairman, hospitality; Victor Gillis, safety; Hugh Hay, juvenile; Mrs. Wayne Jenkins, radio and visual education; Mrs. Alvin Budd, health; Mrs. John Gillis, Girl Scouts; Mrs. O. B. Morrison, council representative.

Officers are Mrs. Emery, president, Mrs. Kepling, first vice president; Mrs. Morrison, second vice president; Mrs. George Wilson, secretary; Mrs. Jack Gickler, treasurer. Miss Philomen Gregg is the school principal.

WARREN MAN ARRESTED

WAR ON SPECULATION IN GRAIN HITS SNAG

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 — A government move to curb grain speculation collided today with an assertion by the nation's big exchanges that federal buying for export is to blame for skyrocketing prices.

"The answer to lower grain prices is to stop exporting grain," declared J. O. McClintock, president of the Chicago board of trade.

McClintock said the exchanges "are not offering that as a solution" and are only interested in bringing out "the true facts."

Speaking for the Chicago, Minneapolis and Kansas City marts, he proposed a congressional investigation, declaring it would prove that speculation on the futures markets has not been the cause of advancing grain prices."

McClintock's blast was issued last night after a conference with agriculture department officials who asked the exchanges to double margin requirements on futures buying. Such an increase would raise margins—cash on the line—to 33 1/3 per cent of the value of the grain. On wheat the margin would go from 45 to 90 cents a bushel.

The Chicagoan said the exchanges did not reject the request but "there was no conclusion reached" either on the original proposal or his counter-offer of a "variable scale of margin requirements." He gave no details of the scale he mentioned.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson agreed that government buying for foreign shortage areas has affected prices, but told reporters: "It was a question of getting grain for hungry people abroad."

"We would be happy to have congress investigate us," he added.

welfare legislation be postponed until after the 1948 election.

He said some of his party members "hesitate to undertake these additional activities if they are to be set up and administered by men who really do not believe in state or local control or independence."

Distrust Administration

"They distrust the present administration of the federal security administration because it has shown an intense desire for federal control of everything and everybody," he declared.

"They fear the same lack of cooperation from President Truman as he exhibited when he appointed to administer the labor-management (Taft-Hartley) relations act three men who apparently had no sympathy whatever with the purposes of the act."

But Taft indicated clearly that in his position as chairman of the senate's Republican policy committee he will attempt to batter these objections down. He also will have the advantage of being chairman of the senate labor and welfare committee, which would handle many of the measures he has suggested.

Winchell "Accepts" Vishinsky Invitation To Make Russ Tour

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 27—Walter Winchell, attacked by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky as a 'jaunty chatterbox" who is famous for his "utterly absurd lies," declared today he would be glad to accept Vishinsky's invitation to tour Russia.

Vishinsky, who at a news conference yesterday, enlarged on his list of American "war-mongers" by adding Winchell, publisher Frank E. Gannett, and William C. Bullitt, first American ambassador to the Soviet Union, said Russia was willing to accommodate visitors, even "unreasonable persons like Walter Winchell."

In a statement made for broadcast over the ABC network, columnist-commentator Winchell declared he would like to tour Russia "but I woud not want to take one of those especially conducted vodka tours."

"I would want to take along with me reporters for ABC and other networks and reporters for AP, INS and UP, and let them decide who really is Baron Munchausen," he added.

SOVIETS PRESS ATTACK ON U.S.

Show Evidence They Intend To Make UN Showdown on "War-Mongering."

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 27 — Fighting from a tough minority position, Russia showed every evidence today of forcing its "war-monger" attack on the United States to a complete showdown in the United Nations while staving off as long as possible apparent defeat on such American-backed issues as Greece and the veto.

Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Russia's deputy foreign minister, repeated and expanded at a news conference yesterday the "war-monger" charges he made before the assembly Sept. 18.

Moreover, there were indications a firm Soviet position on Palestine may now be emerging which would be critical of British policies but not necessarily in disagreement with the final decisions of the United States on this issue, which is being handled by Secretary of State George C. Marshall with extreme caution at the moment.

Hints at Truman

Vishinsky made clear that Russia intends to press its "war-monger" case to the limit. By what he said and did not say, Vishinsky brought his accusations closer to President Truman and Secretary Marshall, both of whom have recently been under attack in the Soviet press.

Vishinsky asserted that John Foster Dulles, a close adviser of Marshall, "greatly influences" the foreign policy of the United States and that the policies of Dulles would lead to war with Russia. All "instigators" of war, Vishinsky argued, ought to be "enchained."

He added to his earlier list of nine alleged "war-mongers" the names of William C. Bullitt, former ambassador to Moscow, columnist-commentator Walter Winchell and publisher Frank E. Gannett.

President Truman's name was brought into the discussion by a reporter who wanted to know what Vishinsky thought of Moscow press criticisms comparing the American Chief Executive with Hitler.

Driver at Richwood Fined After Accident

Robert Russell, 23, of Richwood pleaded guilty when charged with reckless driving and was fined $10 and costs yesterday by Mayor C. H. Brown of Richwood. He was arrested by state highway patrolmen at 8:15 p. m. Thursday on route 4 following an automobile accident which resulted in minor injuries to Russell and another passenger Charles McAllister, 23, also of Richwood. The accident happened, patrolmen said, when Russell lost control of the car and it overturned.

Russian Korean Offer Viewed with Misgivings

By The Associated Press

SEOUL, Sept 27—Two South Korean political leaders predicted today withdrawal of American and Russian occupation troops, suggested yesterday by the Soviets, would result in civil war and communization of the country.

The prediction came from two men who claim to speak for thousands of their countrymen — Syngman Rhee, rightist, and Kimm Kui Sic, chairman of the South Korea Interim legislative assembly.

JAMES L. M'GUIRE DIES NEAR LARUE

Former School Teacher Succumbs at 92.

Special to The Star

LARUE, Sept. 27—James Logan McGuire, 92, formerly a school teacher in this area, died at 9:15 a. m. today in the home of a daughter, Mrs. Pearl Parker, two miles northwest of here. He had been seriously ill a week.

Born May 29, 1855, in Plymouth, O., he was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGuire, natives of Pennsylvania. In August 1880 he married Mary Ellen Hinson, who preceded him in death Nov. 24, 1931. He was a past master of LaRue lodge No. 463 F. and A. M., had been a member of the lodge 48 years, was a member of Mary Lenox chapter, Eastern Star, a member of the Methodist church and of Bowling Green Grange.

Surviving with the daughter in whose home he died are other daughters, Mrs. Nellie Arnold of Warsaw, Ind., and Mrs. Zoa Pixler of Worthington. A son, Carl McGuire, preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the Methodist church by Rev. C. A. Hutchison, pastor. Burial will be in LaRue cemetery. Masonic services will be held. The body was to be taken from the Ford funeral home to the Parker home where friends may call after 2 p. m. Sunday.

Weddings

in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man.

A reception at the home of the bridegroom's parents for the immediate families and friends followed the ceremony. The couple left Tuesday for a wedding trip through the south, and upon their return will make their home on West Church street.

Mrs Kelly is employed at the General Electric Co. plant in Bucyrus. Mr. Kelly served three and a half years with the U. S. Marine Corps, with most of that time overseas in the South Pacific.

The marriage of Miss Edith Russell, daughter of Mrs. Rosa Lee Russell of 621 Ballentine avenue, and Robert L. Nunnally, son of Mrs LeRoy Dozier of North State street, took place at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening at the home of Rev. C. D. Jones. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Larry Eugene Russell. For the ceremony the bride wore a pink costume and her flowers were a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Robert Carr of Cincinnati, her attendant wore a light blue dress and a corsage of white gladioli. Mr. Carr served as best man for the bridegroom. The bride's mother wore a navy blue costume and Mrs. Dozier was costumed in an aqua dress. A reception for 40 guests followed the ceremony. The couple will make their home with the bride's mother. The bridegroom is employed with the American Malleable Steel Castings Co. The bride attended Harding High school and the bridegroom attended William Spencer High school at Columbus, Ga. He is a veteran of World War II having served in the European theater. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Carr and Mr. and Mrs. Peterson of Cincinnati.

Liquor Price Drop To Go Into Full Effect Monday

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 27—Price cuts on 12 brands of liquor, including Scotch and bonded bourbon, will go into effect Monday, Liquor Director Dale Duniton, said today.

The price reductions, he said, were not a part of the state program to clear shelves of overstocked brands, but were the result of lower prices by vendors.

Cuts of from three cents to $1.57 a bottle will affect one Scotch whiskey, one bonded bourbon, two five-year-old straight bourbons, one spirit blend, four brandies, and three cordials.

2 Ohio Towns Deprived Of Cooking, Heating Gas

By The Associated Press

EATON, O., Sept. 27 — Eating was a problem today for some 1,100 families here and 400 more at nearby West Alexandria, unless they liked uncooked food.

Workmen for the West Ohio Public Service Co., yesterday were replacing a meter orifice at a control station at the north edge of Eaton when the pressure got out of their control, H. C. Geisler, chief engineer for the firm, said.

The result was that Eaton and West Alexandria families, restaurants, and a bakery were without gas for cooking or heating.

Geisler said he expected service to be restored late today.

FUNERAL SET FOR ASPHYXIATED CHILD

Rites for Mary Ann Willey To Be Near Cardington.

Special to The Star

MT GILEAD, O.—Funeral services for Mary Ann Willey, 3½-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Willey of near Johnsville will be held Monday at 2:30 p. m. at the Center United Brethren church south of Cardington.

The child died yesterday morning of asphyxiation while sitting in the family car parked in a field while her father worked nearby.

She was born Feb 27, 1944, at Galion City hospital to Harold E. and Mary Mabel Stumph Willey. According to reports, the child was in the back seat of the car. The doors were open when the father left about 20 minutes before to cut corn but when he returned the doors were closed. No flames were visible when he returned to the car, but there was smoke and while the child was being rushed to Galion City hospital the car burst into flames.

Surviving with the parents are a brother, Russel Wayne, 17, and a sister, Sandra Fae, 6. Friends may call at the residence until 11:30 a. m. Monday when the body will be taken to the church where it may be seen from 1 until 2:15 p. m. Rev. Harold Hammer will conduct services.

Plans Shelved

The plans, which existed, for extending the Truman doctrine to Korea and then to a series of impoverished, disordered and threatened countries on the perimeter of the Soviet Union were shelved.

Yet a crisis, enormously greater than that in Greece or Korea or Iran or Turkey, was developing. It was a crisis of the British empire, and of France, and of Italy, and indeed of the whole western world. Extraordinary measures of American assistance were obviously going to be needed. After Congress had showed its attitude last spring, there was no possibility that this assistance would be provided by applying the principles, the procedure, and the precedent of the Truman doctrine, as it had been revealed in the Greek affair. A wholly different conception and a radically different approach were necessary.

I think it is true to say that those who conceived the Truman doctrine were concerned not only to devise a way by which Europe could be saved from economic disaster, but also to devise a graceful way of saving the United States from the destructive and exhausting entanglements of the Truman doctrine. They may not succeed. The European crisis is insoluble if Europe remains divided by the iron curtain, raised by the Russians, and by the containing wall which we are supposed to construct.

But there are reasons for thinking that the Russians will not be able to maintain the iron curtain and that we cannot construct western Europe as a containing wall. They are that the vital needs of the people of Europe will prevail; the economic interdependence of western and eastern Europe will compel the nations of the continent to exchange their goods across the military, political and ideological boundary lines now separating them.

Educators Oppose WAA On School Supplies

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Sept. 27—A new organization, formed by a group of educators, today opposed a war assets administration proposal that the agency supervise distribution of surplus government stocks to schools.

Eighteen educators from six states and the District of Columbia yesterday formed "the state educational agencies for surplus property of the Second army area and the military district of Washington" after asserting in a resolution.

The WAA is "not an educational agency and does not have qualified personnel to administer the donation program nor the time to train such personnel and has made no attempt to insure equitable distribution in past programs."

Cardington, Ashley Autos in Accident

Minor damage resulted to a parked car owned by Walter Hickson, 47, of Cardington when it was struck by a car and farm trailer driven by Rex Mattix, 18, of near Ashley at 9 a. m. yesterday on route 529 in Cardington, state highway patrolmen reported. The accident occurred, patrolmen said, when Mattix apparently failed to allow enough clearance while passing the Hickson car parked on route 529 in Cardington.

Galion, Crestline Men in Accident

Ronald Garverick, 20, of near Galion suffered cuts and bruises when the truck in which he was riding struck a bridge at 3:50 p. m. on route 30 south near Iberia, state highway patrolmen reported. Fred Lauer, 25, of Crestline was the driver. Considerable damage resulted to the front of the truck.

Judge's Conscience Brings Cut in Jail Term

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 27 — A criminal court judge who spent a "sleepless night" returned to court yesterday to reduce a reformatory sentence for a 20-year-old convicted robber to two years on probation.

Judge John R. King sentenced Joseph H. Evans of Columbus to one-to-25 years at Mansfield reformatory Thursday and said he spent a "sleepless night" because "the sentence weighed on my conscience all night."

The youth's character and industry and testimony he drove a get-away car without knowing his companions were involved in a robbery were cited as mitigating factors by Judge King.

Ann Sheridan In Picture Coming To State Theater

"King's Row" starring Ann Sheridan and Robert Cummings, and "Man From Rainbow Valley" with Monte Hale and Adrian Booth will be shown Sunday and Monday at the State theater.

Billed as a double feature for Tuesday and Wednesday are "The Mighty McGurk" and "The Walls Came Tumbling Down." The former stars Wallace Beery and Edward Arnold, and heading the cast in the latter are Lee Bowman and Marguerite Chapman.

Joel McCrae and Brian Donlevy are the starring players in the film, "The Virginian," which is billed as the main attraction of a double feature Thursday through Saturday. Completing the billing will be "Hold That Blonde" starring Eddie Bracken and Veronica Lake.

County Deputy Holds Inspection of Grange

Annual inspection conducted by Elmer Williams, county deputy, was held at the recent meeting of Mt. Olive Grange. Zell Owens, master, was in charge of the meeting at which 60 members were present. One reinstatement was accepted. A report on the scrap drive was given by Robert Uncapher with Mrs. Edith Schwaderer reporting on the bake sale.

Plans for a wiener roast were made and the following committee appointed: Lowell Hedges, Thomas McLean and Ruth Ann Lyons. Announcement was made that the meetings will start at 8 p. m. after Oct. 1.

Lydia Lauer, lecturer, was in charge of the program which included recitation by Paul Clay; educational talk, Floyd Uncapher; vocal duet, Jane and Jean Uncapher, agricultural talk, Zell Owen; vocal solo, Jean Ann Bricker; a group of McGuffy readings, Mrs. Edna Knackel; accordion numbers by Mrs. Ola Uncapher. A song by the group closed the meeting.

Marion Shows "Kit Carson"

"Last of Mohicans" Also To Play Here Sunday and Monday.

"The Last of the Mohicans" and "Kit Carson," two thrilling chapters of American history that capture all the power and glory of our country's march across the nation to fulfill its destiny, will be the attraction Sunday and Monday at the Marion theater.

The former picture tells the bloody story of the French and Indian War and the siege of Fort William Henry on Lake George in 1757, and of the fortitude of the early settlers of the American continent as they faced the hardships and dangers. Randolph Scott is seen as Hawkeye, the brave Colonial scout, Binnie Barnes as Alice Munro, the colonel's daughter, and Henry Wilcoxen as Major Duncan Hayward.

"Kit Carson" pays tribute to another group of courageous American trail-blazers as they fought their way across the still unsettled American continent, battling weather, Indians and the Mexican army in their efforts to reach California. Jon Hall, Dana Andrews and Lynn Bari are the starring players.

Tuesday and Wednesday, the pictures will be "Dark Waters" and "Cipher Bureau." The former, starring Merle Oberon and Franchot Tone, is a thrilling mystery of the deep, dark swamps of Louisiana. Merle Oberon is the intended victim of a sinister plot to drive her insane and cause her large inheritance to be lost to a group of plotting criminals. "Cipher Bureau," with Leon Ames and Joan Woodbury, is a story of the secret service during wartime and their activities in the breaking of enemy codes.

"The Pretender" starring Albert Dekker and Catherine Craig, and "Rustlers of Devil's Canyon" with Allan Lane and Bobby Blake is the double feature for Thursday through Saturday.

The former is an exciting murder drama with the stars caught between the vengeance of a killer and the coils of the police. In the latter, Allan Lane again plays the part of Red Ryder and in this latest picture calls upon all the tricks of his mind to outwit the outlaws of the plains.

HUMPHREY BOGART and Lauren Bacall are the starring players in the action-packed version of "Dark Passage" which is now playing through Thursday at the Ohio theater.

Bogart, Bacall In Ohio Film

Play Leads in "Dark Passage"; "Life with Father" Opens Friday.

Excitement and gripping suspense accents the new film, "Dark Passage," which is now playing through Thursday at the Ohio theater. In the starring roles are Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall, with Agnes Moorhead, Bruce Bennet and Tom D'Andrea as principal supporting players.

Most of the film was photographed in San Francisco. Humphery Bogart's role has him serving a term in prison for a crime which he did not commit. Shortly after his staged escape, he is picked up by a young lady, played by Lauren Bacall, who is driving alone in her car. She apparently knows all about him from having followed his trail in the newspapers. She hides him out for a time, but he becomes suspicious of her and leaves. He then becomes involved in several murders.

The celebrated motion picture packed with fun and gaiety and adapted from the outstanding stage production, "Life with Father," will open Friday at the Ohio and run for seven days.

Photographed in technicolor, in the picture William Powell plays Father and Irene Dunne is Vinnie, his wife, while Elizabeth Taylor and ZaSu Pitts play supporting roles. The comedy depicts a memorable picture of American life during the brownstone era.

It tells of the trials and tribulations of the Day family. Cousin Cora comes to visit, bringing along 17-year-old Mary. Young Clarence, played by Jimmy Lydon, falls in love with the girl and proceeds to court her in the best manner which is very proper. Only the matter of baptism arises with Father declaring that he was never baptized himself. This declaration creates a family crisis.

Betty Grable In "Pin Up Girl" At Drive-In Theater

"Pin Up Girl," a technicolor film starring Betty Grable and John Harvey is billed for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Marion Drive-In theater located on route 23, north of Marion. Added attractions will include a March of Time, "Teachers' Crisis," a color cartoon, "Choo Choo Amigo," and the latest news.

Billed for showing Wednesday and Thursday is "The Great John L" starring Linda Darnell and Gregory McClure, plus a color cartoon, "Polar Playmates," and news.

A technicolor film, "Centennial Summer," starring Jeanne Crain and Cornel Wilde, will be shown Friday and Saturday. Completing the billing will be a color cartoon, "The Loose Nut" and news.

Bing Crosby, Barry Fitzgerald Here in "Welcome Stranger"

"Welcome Stranger," a down-to-earth human story of life in a typically small New England community, opened today at the Palace theater and is billed to run for a full week, through next Friday. Co-starred are Bing Crosby, Barry Fitzgerald and Joan Caulfield, and it is the film marking the first reunion of Bing and Barry since their sterling performances in their first hit, "Going My Way."

Bing Crosby is cast as a cocky, easy-going doctor who agreed to substitute for the town's beloved old practitioner while the latter takes a long-delayed vacation. The old physician played by Barry Fitzgerald, leads the town in resenting Bing's attitude, his unprofessional manner, and his big city ways.

However, it isn't long before Crosby livens up the town's square dances, teaches Barry to sing while he fishes, charms Joan Caulfield, and is soon the champion of the people. But, Bing, with a wandering nature, is prepared to leave the town when the happiness of the old doctor is threatened. Bing lingers to straighten things out, and is himself cured of roaming by Miss Caulfield.

Bing sings four brand new hits written by Johnny Burke and Jimmy Van Heusen. "Country Style" is the highlight of a country square dance sequence in the film, "My Heart Is a Hobo," Bing sings in a hilarious duet with Barry, "Smile Right Back at the Sun," is a high-spirited tune, and "As Long As I'm Dreaming," is a romantic ballad.

Added attractions with "Welcome Stranger" will include a Pacemaker special, "Brains Can Be Beautiful," a Little Lulu cartoon in color, "The Wee Men," and the latest news.

PREXIES TRIP TIFFIN, 25-0; IRISH SPILL CAREY, 18-

Harding Trounces Columbian For Second Straight Grid Win

Shifting into high gear at Tiffin last night, the Harding Presidents rolled over Tiffin Columbian, 25-0, to take their second straight football victory and move definitely into the favorite side of the football ledger after two seasons as underdogs.

Advancing the ball a total of 350 yards on offense and earning 12 first downs, the Presidents held Tiffin to 77 yards gained and two first downs.

An estimated 3,000 watched the game.

At the start of the game, Prexy fullback Clarence Smith gave an indication of what was to come by running back the opening kickoff 80 yards for a touchdown nullified by an offside penalty against Harding, the first of nine penalties which plagued Harding all evening and ruined a scoring threat a few minutes later.

Jim Hill ran back the second kickoff 35 yards to midfield, and the Prexies marched to the Tiffin 20 when a 15-yard holding penalty sank Harding chances for the first score. After the Tiffin Tornadoes failed to advance, the Prexies took a punt at midfield and this time Smith and Coss ran 30 and 19 yards to set up Hill's plunge from the two for the first tally. Gherman's dropkick for the extra point was wide.

Harding hit pay dirt twice in the second quarter, and almost a third time when a long pass from Coss on the 25 to Bishop in the end zone slipped out of Bishop's hands for an incomplete. Tiffin took possession of the ball on the 25 after a second Prexy pass failed to connect. Three plays later Tiffin gambled and lost on a pass, Coss intercepting on the 25 and running over unmolested for the second touchdown. The try was no good.

Tiffin's fullback Hostler fumbled the return on the next kickoff. The ball was recovered on the Tiffin 31-yard line by Merle Daum, Harding understudy at center. Coss's fumble on the next play was recovered by Tiffin on their own 15, and after failing to gain, they punted. Dick Gherman ran it back 33 yards, putting the ball on the Tornado 14. Clarence Smith went off right tackle for the quarter's second score. His plunge off tackle for the extra point was no good.

The scoreless third quarter ended after an exchange of punts put Harding in possession of the ball on their own 25. Coach Pete Howison's offensive drills again paid off as Harding marched down field to the Tiffin six-yard line in seven plays. Smith's 23 and 10-yard advances in that march, and a Coss-to-Hill pass good for 20 yards accounted for most of the yardage gained. Then Smith took a lateral from Coss and went over for the final touchdown. A pass from Coss to Tom Taylor connected for the extra point.

SEMI-PROS TO PLAY AT STADIUM TONIGHT

Angels Booked with Mendon in 1st Loop Tilt.

Marion Angels play Mendon Red Jackets at the Stadium tonight. Game time is set at 8:00 p. m.

Coach Gene Fetter's boys will play the western Ohio team in the first Inter-State conference tilt on the Angel schedule.

Pre-game dope gives the Angels the edge over the lighter inexperienced semi-pro aggregation.

The Angels are undefeated this year and unscored upon. Columbus Hilltop fell in the opener, 18-0, and Worthington lost to them, 6-0, in the second start.

Johnsville Wallops Chesterville, 38-0

JOHNSVILLE, Sept. 27—Johnsville walloped Chesterville here yesterday, 30-0, in a Double M six man football league game.

In the first period, Donnelson plunged from the seven, and Nicklaus' drop kick was good for two more points.

Bardon galloped 50 yards for the next touchdown in the second period, and Donnelson went over from the five for a third tally. Neither conversion in that quarter was good.

After a scoreless third quarter, Brewer went 10 yards for a touchdown, a Shaffer to Brewer pass was good for another, and Bardon made the final tally on a 50 yard run.

Special to The Star

KENTON, Sept 27—The Kenton Wildcats whipped Van Wert here last night, 13-6. After Kenton received the opening kickoff they were forced to punt and Van Wert took the ball and drove 50 yards in a sustained offensive for the score with fullback Kendall going over from the three-yard line. In the second quarter Kenton started a drive from their own 45 and ended in pay dirt with Sprang going over from the three yard line. A pass, Decker to Pugh connected in the same period for the final score.

Bruins Trounce Muncie, 6-1, To Win Preliminary Series

Special To The Star

MUNCIE, Ind., Sept. 27—Marion won the preliminary Shaughnessy playoffs here last night, defeating the Muncie Packers, 6-1. The Cubs won the current series four games to one.

The Cubs will be idle now until the other half of the preliminary playoffs is decided. Last night Springfield surprised Zanesville, 5-2, to prolong their set of games. The Dodgers need one victory to win the right to play Marion, the Giants two.

Begins Immediately

The final round of playoffs will begin on the night following the Zanesville - Springfield clincher tilt. If Zanesville wins, the series with Marion will begin on Dodger soil. If Springfield wins, the first two games will be played at Lincoln park.

Frank Smith held the Muncie team to five scattered hits in chalking up the playoff victory. The Packers' only run came in the seventh inning, resulting from a walk to Billie Ford, a double by pitcher Ray Trava and Howard Locke's infield bingle.

Eddie Post, who started on the mound for Muncie, was injured in the third inning when a ground ball hit through the box by Cub Manager Nelson Burbrink nicked him on the first finger of the pitching hand, splitting the nail.

He was taken to Ball hospital, Muncie, for emergency repairs.

Trava, who relieved Post, slammed the door in the face of the Cubs. But it was too late. The youngster permitted only three hits in the seven innings he toiled and gave up an unearned run.

The Muncie defense crumbled, seven errors being charged against the Packers. Billie Ford and Tom Florence each committed two bobbles. All but one of the Marion runs was unearned.

Wally Rasmussen, Marion left fielder, was chased by Umpire Staley in the second inning for disputing a decision at third base. The Cub outfielder attempted to go from first to third on an infield error but was called out by Staley on a close play. Rasmussen tossed dust on the impire's trousers and the latter waved him to the showers

Cold weather again held down the crowd for the season's baseball windup in Muncie.

RICHWOOD GRIDDERS FELL MECHANICSBURG

RICHWOOD, Sept. 27—Richwood gridders topped Mechanicsburg there yesterday, 20-6, to remain undefeated this season.

First Richwood score came in the first period when fleet Gene Cheney went 52 yards for the touchdown. The kick was not good.

Two more touchdowns were scored in the second quarter, the first by Perkins after Wall had returned a punt 45 yards to the Mechanicsburg four. A Wall to McElroy pass was good for the point. Second tally in that period came after a steady 65 yard drive downfield, including a 33 yard run by Wall, had placed the ball on the three. Wall plunged over for the tally, and Woods kick was good.

BUCYRUS 11 EDGES WILLARD, 19-18

BUCYRUS, Sept. 27—Bucyrus Redskins edged Willard, 19-18, in a football battle at Willard last night.

After a scoreless first quarter Bucyrus took the lead when W. Kibler took a pass from his brother Dick and went over for the touchdown. The try was not good.

Willard came back in the same quarter when Carpenter went over to tie the score.

Bucyrus made it twice more in the second on a run by Boyle and a Dick Kibler to W. Kibler pass. Boyle's conversion was good for an extra point.

Willard nearly tied the game in the final quarter when Gill ran over a pass from MacDowell, and a MacDowell to Carpenter pass was good for another touchdown. Both attempted conversions failed, leaving Bucyrus with the one point lead.

2 SURPRISE HURLERS SHOW SERIES FORM

Chandler, Taylor Raise Hopes of Harris, Shotton.

By The Associated Press

Spud Chandler and Harry Taylor, the two lame-armed hurlers who haven't been of much use to their respective teams during the past month, were in position today to become World Series "sleepers" for Bucky Harris and Burt Shotton.

Chandler, the veteran righthander of the New York Yankees made his first start since July 10 yesterday and while charged with the Yankees' 3-2 loss to the Boston Red Sox, showed enough to raise Harris' hopes.

Taylor, the brilliant righthanded rookie of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who hasn't pitched since Aug. 18 when he was forced to retire in a game with the St Louis Cardinals because of a stiffness in his pitching elbow, also made a surprise appearance Thursday night against the Philadelphia Phils. He pitched two scoreless relief innings and pronounced himself fit for action against the Yankees.

CARDINGTON LOSES IN FOOTBALL DEBUT

CARDINGTON, Sept. 27—Cardington Pirates dropped their first football game since 1910 here last night, 20-6 to Centerburg.

Izenberg scored from the 15 on a fake reverse in the second quarter to begin the attack. Reynolds plunge was good for the extra point.

Reynolds plunged over from the two in the third period for the second Centerburg tally, and his drive through the line made the conversion good.

Their final tally came after a drive had put the ball near the Cardington goal. Fleming recovered a Centerburg fumble and went over for the touchdown.

Cardington scored in the last quarter when Newcomer took a lateral from Roach and went 20 yards around end for the touchdown. The pass for the extra point was incomplete.

St. Mary Offensive Smashes Blue Devil Undefeated Strea

St. Mary Irish upset a strong Carey football team last n 18-7, to halt a Blue Devil winning streak at 11 games and ruin Ca chances for a third straight undefeated seasons.

A more powerful Irish offense pu tthe skids to Carey hopes another perfect season, as St. Mary racked up seven first downs to Carey's four, and picked up 193 yards to Carey's 133.

Only Carey score came early in the first period when the Blue Devils' fullback Bill Dennison blocked an Irish punt and went 20 yards for the touchdown. The kick was good.

Late in the same quarter Irish quarterback Dick Schuler broke away for 60 yards and the touchdown. The try for the extra point was miffed, leaving Carey ahead until the third quarter.

Irish mentor Gene Fetter sent the boys out to the second half raring to sew up their first Mid-State league game and bounce back to the win column after the 19-0 setback handed them by Lima St Rose last week.

After a steady march down the field in the third quarter to the Carey six-yard line, Ed Murphy plunged over for the tally. The extra point was no good.

John Baldauf scored later in the period, plunging through the center for the final touchdown.

Hit-Skip Motorist Hits Boy on Bike

Special to The Star

GALION, Sept. 27 — James Comstock, 15, residing east of Galion, was admitted to City hospital Friday night for treatment for injuries suffered when a hit-skip motorist knocked him off of his bicycle about four miles east of Galion on Route 30-S near the boy's home, Friday night.

The boy was brought into the Galion police station early in the evening by a passing motorist. Police Captain Charles Lauer said the boy's ear and face were bleeding on the right side where he had scraped them on the pavement when he was knocked off of his bicycle.

The boy was taken to City hospital, and the State Highway patrol of Mansfield headquarters was notified. Witnesses said the car that struck the boy did not have any lights.

Those from Calvary Evangelical and Reformed church will be named later. Mrs. Remy was elected treasurer and Mrs. R. L. Van Scoy, secretary.

Mrs. D. L. Custis of Bucyrus Council of Church Women was present at the meeting.

6 CANDIDATES SEEK 4TH DISTRICT SEAT

By The Associated Press

LIMA, O., Sept. 27—Four Democrats and two Republicans are entered in the race for the Ohio Fourth district seat in the U. S. house of representatives.

The six filed before yesterday's deadline for entry in the Oct. 7 primary when voters from Allen, Auglaize, helby, Miami, Darke and Mercer counties will nominate one Republican and one Democrat for the Nov. 4 special election.

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert ordered a special election concurrent with the general election to fill the membership left vacant when Robert F. Jones of Lima resigned to become a member of the federal communications commission.

Candidates are:

Republican: William M. McCulloch of Piqua, former speaker of the Ohio house of representatives, and Dewey Fetter, Lima.

Democrats: Roy E. Harmony of Sidney, Joseph B. Quatman, Lima, Reuben H. Dickman, New Bremen, and Paul C. Christie, Delphos.

Inspection of Grange Conducted by Deputy

Annual inspection of United Grange was conducted by Deputy Master E. A. Williams at a meeting of the Grange Tuesday night at the Claridon school. Mrs. E. A. Williams, deputy matron, conducted the juvenile grange inspection.

For the program, Eugene Slagle read a history of the United Grange which he had compiled, and John Ruth gave a talk on dairying. Other talks were given by Emmett Trout, Kelvin Baldinger and Laird Rickle. A skit was presented by Peggy Clary, Gloria Lashey, Ann Shelton and Jo Earl.

A quartet contest was conducted with quartets representing Mount Olive, Bowling Green and Bethlehem Granges participating. The quartet from the latter grange, composed of Walter Bender, Robert Rice, Oscar Kaelber and Earl Augenstein, won the contest and will represent Marion county in a district contest to be held in October.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Trout, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Gail Van Gordon.

Degree Is Conferred At Grange Meeting

An inspection of Salt Rock Grange was held Sept. 22 by Elmer Williams. Paul E. McWherter was obligated in the first degree by Lester D. Watts, past master. The Grange degree team then conferred the second degree.

The following literary program was presented under the direction of Mrs. George Bosley, lecturer: opening song by the group; a talk, "Soil Conservation" by Orville Griswold; a skit, "Going to the Grange Meeting" by Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Starner a reading, "Uncle Josh and the Rheumatism" by Lester Watts; a talk, "Safety on the Farm" by Mrs. Minnie Starner; a song, "Down by the Old Mill Stream" by the group; a stunt by George Bosley Jr. and an article, "How To Keep Food Prices Down" by Mrs. Irene Gibb.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

NOEL started at my question as if I had roweled him

"What do you mean?" he stammered "That I should ask Mary about her interview with Dr Twitchell? I—I couldn't do that! If she chooses to tell me herself—"

I interrupted him ruthlessly

"I don't mean that at all" I said "Dr Twitchell, naturally, wishes to see you after he has talked with Mary But Mary is so much better physically, mentally and emotionally, that we must take no risk of upsetting her For that reason I do not wish her to know until some later date that you have talked with Dr Twitchell"

Noel's face held uneasy bewilderment

"I do not understand," he said "How can Mary help knowing about it with the doctor waiting around to see me?"

"But he isn't waiting over in the apartment," I said

"Where then?" he asked impatiently

In Dicky's Studio

"When he asked to see you after he had seen Mary," I said placidly, "I suggested that he wait in Dicky's studio until you were ready to see him Whenever I call him, he will come directly down here, and then leave the hotel from here without seeing Mary again tonight She thinks he already has gone"

"It appears to be very well planned" he said, and there was suspicion in his eyes and tone But I agreed with him promptly to his patent bewilderment

"Thank you," I said "It did take a bit of quick thinking to figure out where to have him wait so that Mary should not suspect he was still in the hotel But you can see that I was compelled to grant his request that he have an opportunity to talk to you Of course, if for any reason you do not wish to see him, I can go up and tell him so"

He fairly jumped at that, and I smothered a smile He was proving more manageable than I had feared

"Why, of course I must see him," he said explosively "He of course will know exactly Mary's condition, and what she can do But" he added stubbornly, "I shall be amazed if he says that after all she has gone through, she will be able to combine her career with motherhood And I am sure I know which Mary would choose"

I was conscious that I would not like to have Faith hear the epithets which I mentally was hurling at him

Then I drew an anticipatory breath of malicious pleasure If I gauged correctly Doctor Twitchell's capability in dealing with temperamental people, Noel would need no epithets after the old physician got through with him Mental court plaster and bandaging would be more to the point

"Then I will call him down immediately," I said When I called Dicky's studio, Dr Twitchell answered

"Oh, yes, Mrs Graham" he said "You are ready for me?"

"If you please," I answered

"Then I will come down at once," he said "Good-bye"

The receiver clicked and I clicked my own, then turned to Noel

"You won't want any listeners in at this conference," I said "Neither will Doctor Twitchell As soon as he comes, I shall go up to Dicky's studio—I always carry a key with me—and when he has gone, call me there and I will come directly down and be at your service for anything you want done"

A Twisted Grin

He gave me a twisted grin which warmed my heart because it told me he had not entirely lost the saving grace of humor

"You probably will be needed to pick up my scattered remains from the floor" he said, and I purposely laughed at his gruesome quip

"I'll bring a basket," I told him, "although I doubt that I shall need it"

Neither of us spoke again in the minute that elapsed before Dr Twitchell's knock sounded on the door I let him in with no hint in my face of Noel's mood, and then swung the door open again

"I shall be in my husband's studio, if you want me" I said, and ran up the two flights of stairs that led there, not wanting to wait for the elevator But fearing my husband's disapproval, I waited until I got my breathing apparatus in order before I knocked on his door

He opened it immediately and drew me inside shutting it again

"I suppose the session is on" he said "And is the old doc primed for shootin' 'bar'?"
